NIXON HAS A RUNOFF PLAN

PATRICK WILL STICK TO HIS TRIKE NOW

Patrick Dilworth, 3, of Des Moines, Iowa, says he'll stick to his tricycle for awhile after making a smashing debut at automobile driving. His mother, Mrs. Warren Dilsworth, says she left her car in the driveway with the key in the ignition and transmission in gear, and Patrick took over. He drove the car nearly 60 feet before crashing into the garage door. Patrick wasn't hurt.

Reform Is Proposed

. . . 40% WOULD ELECT

Washington (AP) — President Nixon told Congress Thursday the Constitution should provide for a runoff election, with the popular vote winner to become president, if the Electoral College should deadlock in a future race for the White House.

He said, too, the electoral system should be reformed prior to the 1972 presidential race.

Recommends 40%

Nixon also recommended, in a message to Congress, that a 40% Electoral College vote, instead of the majority now required, be sufficient for election.

Those two changes would avert the possibility that a future presidential decision might be made by the House, a prospect which arose during the three-way race of 1968.

Nixon said he refrained from proposing drastic modification of the electoral vote system because it is doubtful that abolition or substantial modification could win the required approval of Congress and three-quarters of the state legislatures in time to take effect by 1972.

Better Allocation Urged

He favored allocating to presidential candidates shares of the electoral vote "in a manner that may more closely approximate the popular vote than does the present system."

Nixon advocated the abolition of individual electors. The President said he has not altered his belief "that the candidate who wins the most popular votes should become president.

"However, practicality demands recognition that the electoral system is deeply rooted in American history and federalism," the President said in the message.

No More Recalcitrance

White House officials noted that the proposed abolition of individual electors would eliminate the possibility of another situation such as developed after the 1968 election when a North Carolina elector pledged to Nixon voted instead for the third party candidate, George C. Wallace.

The message came from a man who lost the 1960 presidential election by a tiny popular vote margin to the late John F. Kennedy, and who won in 1968 by about 500,000 popular votes over Hubert H. Humphrey.

In percentage terms, both Nixon and Humphrey received 43% of the popular vote with third party candidate George C. Wallace polling the balance.

Winner In Runoff

Nixon proposed provision for a run off election if the presidential vote should prove inconclusive. He said if no candidate received 40% or more of the electoral vote in the regular election a run off should be held within a specified period with "victory going to the candidate who receives the largest popular vote."

Nixon also said electoral reform should specify that:

—If a president-elect dies before the electoral votes are counted, the vice president-elect would be chosen president.

—By providing that in the event of the death of a vice president-elect, the new president would upon taking office follow the procedures of the 25th Amendment to fill the vacancy. Under that system, the president would nominate a vice president to take office upon confirmation by Congress.

—Should both the president-elect and vice president-elect die or become unable to serve prior to the inauguration, a new election or some other system would be set up to fill the offices.

—The electoral system should clarify the situation presented by the death of a nominee for president or vice president prior to the general election.

Plimpton Says He's 'Country's Loser'

By DAVE ZIMMERMAN
Star Staff Writer

George Plimpton, whose nerve is balanced only by his inexpertise, Thursday related to University of Nebraska students his experiences as a lime-eating quarterback with the Detroit Lions and a triangle tinkler with the N.Y. Philharmonic.

The best-selling jet-set author of "Paper Lion," the most popular sportsbook in history, Plimpton garners copy for his writings by finding out what it's like to be an amateur in the midst of professionals — situations he described as being "splendidly embarrassing."

Plimpton told the 500 students that he felt it was appropriate that he, "the most famous loser in the country," should be invited to speak in Lincoln.

Punishment

The son of a former ambassador and deputy U.S. representative, Plimpton said he has attempted to undergo the mental and physical punishment of professionals.

This urge has led him to box with Archie Moore, play tennis with Pancho Gonzales, golf in professional invitationals, play bridge with Oswald Jacoby, appear with the Metropolitan Opera and tour with the Philharmonic as a percussionist.

The most heralded of his "wrong-place-at - the - wrong-time" exploits was his short-lived stint as quarterback for the Detroit Lions — the source of "Paper Lion."

Had Triumphs

Plimpton said, "I have had my triumphs," and told of striking out a National League all-star.

But he noted that failure is more his forte, such as when he "kept falling down without a hand laid on me" during his quarterbacking, and when Leonard Bernstein told him "Plimpton, you've destroyed the music; you can't play bells anymore."

Explaining his methods, he said that in order to become a real part of a professional field, "you have to impress people that you are serious. It's not much fun to be a fool so you try hard not to be one, but it doesn't help."

Voter Age Amendment Advances

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Government and Military Affairs Committee Thursday sent to the floor a proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the minimum voting age to 19.

The proposal, LB168, won 7-1 committee endorsement after it was amended, also on a 7-1 count, to drop the suggested minimum age from 20 to 19.

Nebraskans, by a narrow margin of 8,379 votes, turned down the 19-year-old vote issue in 1968.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, who introduced the 20-year-old proposal this year, told the committee he will support the 19-year-old proposition, but will not continue to sponsor the bill if it is so amended on the floor.

Eye Revision

Meanwhile, the committee began amendatory work on a major proposal to establish a Nebraska Constitutional Revision Commission to thoroughly study the state constitution and make recommendations for proposed amendments to the Legislature.

No action was taken, but Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, the committee chairman, told newsmen that general agreement was reached on proposed composition of the commission.

The committee is expected to recommend a 19-member unit, consisting of 10 state senators, six persons appointed by the governor, and three named by the State Supreme Court.

Provisions for geographical distribution will also be proposed, Carpenter said.

Many Backers

The bill, LB244, also sponsored by Adamson, won support at a public hearing from spokesmen for Gov. Norbert Tiemann, the Republican Party, the League of Women Voters of Nebraska, and the Nebraska Tax Research Council.

Robert Barnett, counsel to the governor, asked the committee to amend the bill to provide that an equal number of members be appointed by the three branches of state government.

Barnett also proposed that lay members be paid $400 a month. The original bill provided only for expenses.

For '71 Unicam

The commission would be directed to report its recommendations in time for consideration by the 1971 Legislature, which would determine which proposals to place on the 1972 general election ballot.

Barnett and the GOP joined hands with the Young Democrats and the University of Nebraska Student Senate in supporting a lowered voting age. All witnesses urged that the minimum be dropped to 19.

Twenty would be regarded by youth as "tokenism," according to Dave Piester, who headed the 1968 drive as chairman of Nebraskans for Young Adult Suffrage.

19 Rejected

Adamson said he proposed 20 because the voters have already rejected 19.

Carpenter, who campaigned against the proposal last year, said he is ready to support it this time because "young people have demonstrated a sense of responsibility" in this state.

Problems Seen In Appointing McManus To Welfare Position

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The appointment of Robert D. McManus as acting state welfare director may be headed for trouble.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann named McManus to the $17,000-a-year post Tuesday only minutes after accepting the resignation of Welfare Director Harold Rogers.

Rogers, who has headed the Department of Public Welfare for the past year, chose to resign because commuting between his Ralston home and the Lincoln office was beginning to work a hardship on his family.

McManus, 54, joined the Department of Administrative Services as deputy director last August, and served also as Tiemann's budget director.

McManus, whose education and experience is in industrial management, readily admits he has "no experience whatsoever in public welfare."

On this point the McManus appointment conflicts with Nebraska law regarding the executive appointment of a welfare director, subject to legislative confirmation.

'Seven Years'

Statute 68-701.01 provides: "His (welfare director) appointment shall be on the basis of recognized and demonstrated interest in and knowledge of the problems of public welfare. He shall have a minimum of seven years administrative experience in public welfare work . . ."

McManus told The Star his interim or acting appointment "was for six months, at least, in my discussions with the governor."

While a permanent appointment was not mentioned, he said, "my work is to be reviewed at that time."

Careful Scrutiny

First hint that the McManus appointment would get careful scrutiny by the Legislature's Committee on Committees came from its chairman, Sen. William Wylie of Elgin.

"The committee, if McManus' name is submitted, will review his qualifications in light of statutory provisions," Wylie said. "The committee will follow the laws of the State of Nebraska."

It was suggested Tiemann might regard McManus as an interim appointment and never seek legislative confirmation.

However, sources suggested this route could ultimately hit a legal snag with the Attorney General's office.

Briton Asks Assurance Of U.S. Nuclear Support

© New York Times Service

London — British Defense Minister Denis Healey Thursday called for a reaffirmation of the United States commitment to defend Europe with nuclear weapons.

Speaking at a news conference, he cautioned against an American policy that would leave Europeans in any doubt about United States nuclear intentions in the event of Soviet aggression.

To do so, he said, would lead to strong pressures from Europeans for nuclear weapons under their own control. He added that there was no realistic possibility that European nations would instead enlarge significantly their conventional forces since that would be economically and politically objectionable.

Although Healey did not mention President Nixon's European trip directly, it was clear from his remarks that U.S. nuclear policy would be one of the points in the discussions here when Nixon arrives Monday after his stopover in Brussels for talks on the Atlantic Alliance.

"Any decline in European nuclear capability through American reluctance to use nuclear weapons rather than allow Europe to be overrun," he said, "would be met not by an increase in European conventional forces but by a very strong demand for nuclear weapons under their own control.

"In spite of arguments and those who take a contrary view, I hope the credibility of the nuclear elements in NATO strategy will be maintained by present and future U.S. governments no less strongly than it has in the past."

Healey's remarks were made in a report on Britain's new defense estimates, which showed the first cut in 10 years.

The estimates he presented showed that Britain's defense spending in the coming year, lower for the first time since 1958-1959, totaled $5,438,000,000 or $12 million less than last year. The reduction reflected Britain's decision to withdraw her forces from east of Suez by 1971 and concentrate them in Europe.

State Roads Covered By Ice, Snow

Roads across Nebraska were either snowpacked or ice-covered and considered hazardous Thursday as another blast of winter weather hit the state.

Warmer temperatures aided snow removal in most parts of the state and caused slushy highways in the southern quarter of Nebraska which turned icy at night.

In the northern Panhandle road surfaces were icy and in the north central and northeastern sections maintenance crews were having difficulty keeping surfaces clear due to drifting. One-way travel was prevalent in the areas.

Reported closed were Nebr. 91 east of Burwell, Neb. 11 north of Atkinson, Neb. 12 west of Naper, Neb. 4 west of Neb. 10 and Neb. 91 west of Albion.

Safety Patrol officials at Norfolk said that drifting was closing Neb. 12 east of Crofton and U.S. 81 south of Madison.

The Grand Island Weather Bureau reported 6 inches of new snow Thursday, making a total of 18 inches on the ground.

Weather officials said that snowfall for the 1968-69 season in Grand Island now totals 52.1 inches — the third highest in records that go back to 1897.

Norfolk weather officials reported between 4 and 6 inches of new snow Thursday, making a total of 18 inches on the ground.

Other estimated totals are 5 inches at Fairbury, 4 or 5 inches at Valentine and Ainsworth, 3 inches at Kearney and Seward and about 2 inches at Lincoln, Wahoo and Superior.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast intermittent snow for east and central Nebraska Friday and Saturday and extended travelers' warnings for the area.

Britain Calls For U.S. Nuclear Reaffirmation

(C) New York Times News Service

London — Denis Healey, Britain's defense minister, called upon the United States to reaffirm its commitment to defend Europe with nuclear weapons. (More on Page 1.)

Laird Cites Russia

Washington — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said the United States should build a missile defense system because of "very rapid" Soviet progress in the strategic arms race. (More on Page 2.)

Eban Sends Thant Note

United Nations, N.Y. — Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban sent a note to Secretary General Thant asking what sort of international action he was thinking of to protect Israeli airliners from Arab terrorists attacks. The note accused Arab governments of complicity in the commando attack on an El Al airliner in Zurich Tuesday.

Rachamin Could Be Jailed

Zurich, Switzerland — Mordechai Rachamin, a 22-year-old Israeli, faces a jail sentence of up to 20 years for killing one of the Arabs who machine-gunned the El Al plane, the prosecuting attorney said in Zurich.

Nixon Names Ambassadors

Washington — President Nixon named Jacob D. Beam, a career diplomat, as ambassador to the Soviet Union; Walter H. Annenberg, a wealthy Philadelphia publisher, as ambassador to Britain, and John S. D. Eisenhower, whose son, David, recently wed President Nixon's younger daughter, Julie, as ambassador to Belgium. (More on Page 2.)

Nixon Has Runoff Plan

Washington — President Nixon asked Congress for a constitutional amendment permitting the selection of a president who won as little as 40% of the electoral vote and requiring a popular vote runoff if no candidate won 40%. At present, a candidate must win at least a majority of the electoral vote to win the election. (More on Page 1.)

Oil Import Review Announced

Washington — President Nixon announced a "full review" of and assumed "full responsibility" for oil import policies. Former President Johnson delegated responsibility to the Interior Department five years ago because of his Texas oil connections.

Bundy Argued For 4½ Hours

Washington — McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, argued for 4½ hours before the House Ways and Means Committee that the foundation had stayed within the legal limits of foundation activities in its recent controversial programs that include giving travel grants to eight members of the staff of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

AFL-CIO To Form Police Union

Bal Harbour, Fla. — The executive council of the AFL-CIO gave the go-ahead signal for the establishment of a national union of policemen, which police officials estimate would have a membership of 300,000. Groups in New York, Chicago, Detroit and Oakland are interested in the projected union.

Stans Has 'Youth Brigade'

Washington — Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans introduced "my youth brigade," seven wealthy men, all Republicans, who will have high posts in his department. Only one is under 40 and three are over 50.

Lindsay To Seek Re-Election

New York — Mayor Lindsay has told close political associates that he will seek re-election and that his campaign manager will be Richard R. Aurelio, former administrative assistant to Sen. Jacob K. Javits. Publically Lindsay continues to say he has not decided whether he will run.

Laird 'Leans Toward' Going Ahead On ABM

World News

Washington (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said Thursday "I lean toward going forward" with an antimissile system and rejected Senate pleas to delay its deployment pending arms control talks with Russia.

Laird made it clear that his overriding concern is with Russia pushing a strategic weapons buildup "at a very high rate" and with Red China's missile threat in the mid-1970s.

He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that:

—The Russians have escalated the arms race, including test of a "sophisticated new ABM (antiballistic missile) system."

—Communist China is expected to have 20 to 30 intercontinental missile launchers in place by 1975. This figure is about a dozen missiles bigger than the 18 to 20 figure Laird used at a news conference last week.

—The Soviet Union has in being or under construction more than the 1,054 U.S. ICBMs and is embarked on a "crash program" to catch up with the United States in missile-launching submarines. The Soviets won't close the missile submarine gap until 1973 or 1974, he said.

Senators In Relay

In relays, committee members — none of whom spoke up for the ABM — unsuccessfully pressed Laird for a commitment to delay deployment of the Sentinel ABM.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., expressed the view that the effect of an antimissile system in escalating the arms race towers over other questions involved in the controversy, including cost and effectiveness.

He looked at Laird, urged him to reconsider his attitude on not holding up the ABM pending arms talks with Russia.

Later, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., told Laird he had a "tremendous opportunity" to stop the arms race and that the Nixon administration should press in this direction to "give greater security to the United States."

Shares Rogers' Hope

About the most the senators got out of Laird was his statement that he shares the hope of Secretary of State William P. Rogers that nuclear weapons negotiations can start before any U.S. antimissile system is deployed.

But, in repeated exchanges with Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the defense secretary indicated he did not want to hold up on any antimissile system until the effective date of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty. He said it might take 12 or 24 months to win ratification from the necessary 40 or so countries.

The subject of the hearing was the nonproliferation treaty, but the bulk of the discussion was about the antimissile system.

WALTER ANNENBERG . . . to Britain.

JACOB D. BEAM . . . to Russia.

Nixon Chooses Beam As Envoy To Moscow

Washington (AP) — President Nixon named a seasoned professional diplomat, Jacob D. Beam, to be U.S. ambassador to Moscow Thursday.

As his ambassador to Great Britain he picked Walter H. Annenberg, millionaire Philadelphia publisher and a friend of Nixon for 20 years.

John S. Eisenhower, 46-year-old son of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was named ambassador to Belgium.

Three Forecast

The three appointments, which had been forecast in advance, rounded out Nixon's diplomatic assignments to key European posts as he prepared to leave for a week-long tour of the continent. The President previously had asked Sargent Shriver to remain as ambassador to France.

All three of the newly designated envoys will require Senate confirmation and thus will not be taking up their posts until after Nixon's return from Europe a week from Sunday.

Beam, who will be 60 in March, has been in the foreign service since 1931 and is rated an expert on Eastern Europe. He is ambassador to Czechoslovakia and was on duty there last summer during the Soviet invasion.

Served In Moscow

A native of Princeton, N.J., Beam served previously as minister-counselor in Moscow and took charge of the embassy when Ambassador George F. Kennan was declared persona non grata by the Stalin regime.

As ambassador to Poland, Beam acted as U.S. representative in the Warsaw talks with the Chinese Communists from 1957 to 1962, and then he became assistant director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

At Moscow he will take over the post recently vacated by Llewellyn Thompson.

First Post

Annenberg is slated to replace Ambassador David K. E. Bruce at the Court of St. James's. It will be the 60-year-old publisher's first government post.

The son of a German immigrant, Annenberg built a comunications empire that includes the Philadelphia Inquirer, the Philadelphia Daily News, Seventeen Magazine, TV Guide, the New York Morning Telegraph and the Daily Racing Form, as well as a number of radio and TV stations.

Also First Post

Eisenhower, a West Pointer who served almost 20 years in the Army, also is taking on his first diplomatic post. At Brussels he will replace Ambassador Ridgeway Knight.

Hunt For Common Ground Bumps Into Reds' Opposition

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Paris (AP) — A U.S. search for common ground in the quest for peace in Vietnam ran into a wall of opposition from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front Thursday.

The fifth and briefest session of the expanded peace talks failed after 5½ hours to produce any sign of progress.

The four delegations meet again next Thursday, on the eve of President Nixon's visit to France.

1954 Accords Cited

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge insisted that the 1954 Geneva accords on Vietnam provide an area of common ground. He challenged Hanoi and the NLF to cooperate in seeking out this area.

Returning to the U.S. Embassy after the meeting, Lodge reported: "Everything I said was misrepresented and rejected."

He said with a smile, however he did not consider that conclusive.

Elements Needed

Lodge said it is "highly unlikely that any negotiated settlement will be reached without the elements of the Geneva accords of 1954."

The elements dealt with mutual withdrawal of troops, creation of the demilitarized zone buffer between North and South Vietnam and other military aspects.

Lodge seized on something the Americans and South Vietnamese had been analyzing for a week — last week's statement by the other side that U.S. military withdrawal was a "fundamental question."

Price Is High

But the Hanoi and NLF delegations again pushed to the forefront their maximum demands. These were for U.S. withdrawal "completely and unconditionally," and for direct negotiations of the Americans with the front as the "authentic representative" of South Vietnam. Any settlement, they repeated, must be on the basis of the NLF's "political program."

The Americans regard this as seeking completely U.S. surrender.

After the session, North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy said his side "rejects the claims of the Americans concerning the Geneva accords and we have given our total agreement to the proposals of the National Liberation Front" — that is, to the whole gamut of maximum demands.

Garrison's Case Shaky

© New York Times Service

New Orleans — District Atty. Jim Garrison Thursday rested his case for a conspiracy in the murder of President John F. Kennedy.

The shakiness of Garrison's case was demonstrated when Criminal District Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. said he would have to study the testimony before deciding if the state had even made a prima facie case.

The judge had ruled in effect last week that a legal case had been made, but Thursday he appeared to be uncertain.

He said he would read the entire testimony of Perry Raymond Russo, the state's chief witness, before ruling on the defense motion for a directed verdict. Haggerty said he would announce his ruling Friday morning.

In the meantime, he said, attorneys for Clay L. Shaw, the defendant, should begin lining up witnesses for possible testimony.

Shaw, a retired 57-year-old New Orleans businessman, is charged with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie, a pilot who died during Garrison's investigation to, murder Kennedy.

Aquanaut Death Cause May Be Faulty Air Filter

San Clemente Island, Calif. (UPI) — The death of an aquanaut 600 feet beneath the surface of the Pacific Ocean may have been caused by a faulty air filter, the Navy said Thursday.

Electronic engineer Barry M. Connon, 44, died of apparent cardiac arrest Monday while swimming with a diving buddy from a capsule that carried them to the ocean floor to the Sealab III habitat anchored nearby.

A preliminary autopsy failed to pinpoint the exact cause of Cannon's death.

Mexico City (AP) — The University of the Americas, which attracts many students from the United States, has started a course in black history.

Fighting Is Fierce On Valley's North Rim

Saigon (AP) — U.S. Marines assaulted and overran two entrenched North Vietnamese units and killed 88 enemy troops in fierce fighting in the jungled mountains near the Laotian frontier, the U.S. Command reported Friday.

Marine casualties were reported as five killed and 26 wounded in the two assaults which occurred Thursday as elements of the 9th Marine Regiment continued their massive sweep through the rugged terrain north of the A Shau Valley, 390 miles north of Saigon.

With a cumulative total of nearly 600 enemy troops killed and resistance growing stiffer each day, the operation, code-named Dewey Canyon, has developed into one of the largest recent battles of the war.

Air Force B52s also struck at North Vietnamese base camps and troop concentrations in the same mountainous area along the Laotian frontier Thursday, the U.S. Command said.

Over 700 Tons

The bombers hammered again at Communist base camps and other targets in the provinces near Saigon, dumping more than 700 tons of bombs in four additional raids.

U.S. military sources said Thursday the enemy has about 7,500 more troops for any new drive in the Saigon area than the Communist command massed for the big Tet offensive last year.

The ground sweeps around Saigon, while producing no major battles, are taking a steady toll as shown by 197 U.S. combat deaths last week.

Second Highest

Only the 198 killed the week ending Feb. 1 was higher. The week saw another 1,103 Americans wounded.

The South Vietnamese weekly casualty figures were delayed.

The U.S. Command said 2,549 enemy soldiers were killed last week, bringing the total in eight years of war to 447,356.

U.S. casualties for the war rose to 31,759 killed and 200,792 wounded. There were 50 noncombat deaths last week, bringing the U.S. total to 5,375 from disease and accidents.

April's Draft Call Is To Be 33,000

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon, maintaining high induction levels this year, called Thursday for the drafting of 33,000 men in April.

The Selective Service System was asked to draft 30,500 for the Army and 2,500 for the Marines.

Draft calls have been relatively high this year as the Pentagon prepares to release thousands of Reservists and National Guardsmen who were ordered up in 1968 after the Pueblo crisis in Korea and the Tet offensive in Vietnam.

A total of 26,800 men were sought in January. Other draft calls this year included February's 33,700 and March's 33,100.

226 Nebraskans Included In Call

The Nebraska draft call for April is 226 men, according to a spokesman for the State Selective Service System.

This is the lowest figure since the January call, when 213 men were drafted in the state. In February the call was 258 and in March 264 men were drafted, the spokesman said.

Crete Evacuees Return Home

. . . RAIL SERVICE RESTORED

Crete (AP) — This Nebraska town was "pretty much back to normal" Thursday afternoon, according to city officials. Two days before a train derailment and an exploding ammonia tank car had killed eight persons.

Some 200 Crete residents were finally allowed back into their homes Thursday after Burlington Railroad workmen finished pumping the ammonia from two tank cars which had been involved in the derailment but which had not exploded.

The immediate area around the derailment site had been barred to them since they fled their homes early Tuesday morning.

More than a score were injured and hundreds were evacuated when the tank car exploded and spread a huge cloud of ammonia across parts of Crete.

Five of the eight deaths were credited to the ammonia, officials said. Three of the bodies were found in the wreckage and were believed to be transients aboard the train at the time of the derailment.

Rescue workers wearing gas masks had gone from door to door in the cloud of ammonia, waking residents and taking them to safe areas. Hundreds fled the gas, some on foot and many with wet towels wrapped around their faces.

Given Short Course

Before being allowed back into the area Thursday, the residents were given a short course in precautions to be taken by state health officials and Crete firemen. They were told to beware particularly of food contamination, and were furnished with leaflets on safety precautions

The wreckage around the derailment scene, where 19 cars had been thrown from the track, was cleaned up, and "they're moving freights through," a Crete resident reported.

The exact cause of the wreck was still unexplained, but railroad officials said that the northbound, Denver-to-Chicago freight apparently struck the ammonia cars setting on a siding.

The dead were identified as Ron Hatchett, 21, and his four-year-old daughter, Gloria Jean; Lyle Safranek, 23; and Louie and Maxine Erdman. The three transients were still unidentified.

The wives of two of the victims, Ethelene Hatchett and Sonja Safranek, were still reported in serious condition at the Crete hospital. Safranek's one-year-old son, Bryan, was listed in serious condition at a Lincoln hospital.

Others hospitalized in Crete and Lincoln were described as in fair to satisfactory condition.

Safety Board May Probe Derailment

Washington (AP) — The National Transportation Safety Board indicated Thursday it may take over the investigation of the Crete, Neb., train derailment that resulted in eight deaths.

Officials, briefed on the accident Thursday, declined to comment on the derailment's probable cause, but said a preliminary assessment might take weeks.

The Crete accident is being investigated now by the Federal Railroad Administration.

New Factors

The decision whether to take on the new investigation hinges on whether new factors were involved in the accident that might lead to more recommendations for preventing similar derailments.

The board already has recommended scattering tank cars with hazardous gas along trains rather than huddling them together, and building stronger tank cars.

Zephyr No. 18 First Train Over Restored Track

Omaha (AP) — Service on the main line track of the Burlington Railway at Crete was restored at 5 a.m. Thursday.

Bill Doney, assistant general manager for lines west, said the California Zephyr No. 18 was the first train over the restored track approximately 15 minutes later.

The main line had been closed by a derailment of 19 cars of a freight in the predawn hours Tuesday.

Doney said that it may take two weeks to a month to fully repair the damage. Trains moving past the scene were slowing to 5 m.p.h.

ENGINE SHOP CLOSED BY FIRE

Two engines littered with debris among the broken and twisted girders that framed the Burlington Railroad's old roundhouse at Omaha show the destruction caused by fire Wednesday night. The old shop, built around 1900, was destroyed and four engines damaged in the $500,000 blaze. F. E. Gray, assistant superintendent, said he doubted the building used as servicing center could be rebuilt.

Mrs. Maddux Dies Of Burns In JFK Blaze

The housemother of a Wahoo dormitory, seriously burned in fire last weekend, died as a result of her injuries early Thursday morning.

Mrs. Marian Maddux, 72, had been hospitalized after a fire swept through the lower floor of a dormitory at John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo Saturday morning.

Mrs. Maddux, whose quarters were on first floor, received burns over more than 35% of her body as she was forced to make her escape through the flames.

Around 80 students living in the dormitory also fled the building, some leaping through upper story windows.

The fire, which caused an estimated $10,000 worth of damage to the building, is still under investigation.

WW II Veteran

Mrs. Maddux was a World War II veteran, serving in the Women's Army Corps. She was a member of the Eastern Star and Vine Congregational Church.

Surviving are a son, John S. of Lincoln; daughter, Mrs. Burl Willets of Denver; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Hodgman-Splain-Roberts' Chapel in Lincoln.

Sec. Hardin Will Receive NU Ag Award

Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, U.S. secretary of agriculture, on leave as chancellor of the University of Nebraska, will be recognized by the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement as its honoree for 1969 at a dinner here March 7.

Dr. A. W. Epp, secretary of the organization, said the award will be received by Mrs. Robert Milligan, Lincoln, daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Hardin. Hardin will not be present because of a conflict in schedule, Epp said.

A tribute to Hardin for his outstanding leadership and his contributions to the state and the nation will be given by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann on behalf of the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement.

The recognition dinner will be held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education at 6:30 p.m. March 7, and is open to the public, Dr. Epp said.

'Very Serious' Flood Threat Seen

Omaha (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau said Thursday a "very serious" flood threat exists for east central Nebraska in late March and April due to the expected heavy snowmelt.

The bureau said the water content of the accumulated snow cover "is huge even for the normal spring breakup period in mid-March and April . . . let alone for February."

"This snowpack containing water up to eight to 10 inches in the Dakotas has by itself the ability to produce severe flooding even without any additional precipitation accumulations."

It said the degree of severity in the expected flooding will be governed by the weather in the next critical six weeks.

The bureau said normally from two to three inches of additional precipitation may be expected before the spring breakup. "But even now over 300,000 square miles of this area have the maximum snow cover of record for this date and conditions warrant preparations for major damaging floods of record or near record proportions."

Here is a rundown of Nebraska areas affected:

Loup, Elkhorn, Lower Platte Systems — Heavy snow prevails over these major Nebraska streams. Water equivalents augmented by an inch or more of precipitation during the past week now are estimated to vary from three to six inches, especially in the Elkhorn basin and the lower tributaries of the Loup basin. Flooding should be moderate to severe in many areas, especially where aggravated by ice jams. Normal precipitation through March would have the potential for producing near record flooding on the Elkhorn below Norfolk and on the North Fork. Major flooding would develop on Wood River and other streams in the Grand Island area if present snow is augmented by normal precipitation through March. The Salt Creek basin would run high from present snow cover but flooding would be moderate should ice jams develop or future precipitation be normal. The Platte River below North Platte would have light overflow from the present snow cover which had been augmented by over an inch of precipitation during the past week. However, if normal snowfall occurs from now until the end of March, the Platte would likely have record overflows below the mouth of the Elkhorn.

Big Blue Basin — An already high water content of snow was augmented by one to two inches of moisture the past week. If snowmelt is rapid or delayed until late March the potential exists for floods of near record proportions in most reaches. Slower melt rates in the area near the edge of the major snowpack would produce floods of lesser magnitude.

Niobrara River — Water equivalents vary from two to four inches in the more northern tributaries with lesser amounts in southern areas. Flooding should be moderate to heavy in most of the northern streams and in those southern streams usually aggravated by severe ice jamming near their mouths.

Middle And Lower Missouri River — The main stem of the Missouri should run high but flooding would be relatively minor from present snow cover alone and confined between Plattsmouth and the Kansas River mouth, in addition to several reaches at and below Waverly, Mo. However, if normal snowfall occurs from now until the end of March in the uncontrolled portions of the Missouri basin above Nebraska City and below North Platte, serious flooding would be likely to develop in several areas. These would be below Omaha and would approximate five to eight foot overflow in most reaches. The overflow in the Blair to Omaha reach would be light with normal snowfall from now to the end of March.

Welfare Appointment Problems Seen

superintendent and statutory professional qualifications.

That opinion ruled that an acting or interim appointee must fulfill the professional requirements, or the appointment is invalid.

While the Attorney General's office routinely declined comment because no legal opinion on the McManus appointment has been requested, other sources asserted a legal analogy in the 1958 opinion.

Not Provided For

It was also suggested that state law does not provide for appointment of an "acting welfare director," and the McManus appointment, whether interim or permanent, may be subject to the Legislature's review.

Sources indicated several legal remedies by which the Legislature might force the issue should the governor fail to submit or withdraw the appointment.

One state senator privately suggested Tiemann "should learn the rules of government, or find a new legal advisor."

"I hope a legal opinion is requested by an appropriate standing committee," he said.

'Nothing Dramatic'

McManus said he does not plan any "dramatic-changes" in the department in the near future.

"The most pressing problem is the budget and the medicaid program," he said. McManus will confer with Washington officials next Tuesday regarding the impact of medicaid on the department budget.

A native of Boston, McManus was an airborne radar observer in World War II and received his degree in industrial management from Northeastern College in 1950.

Battleship Said To Come Home

Saigon (AP) — The battleship New Jersey is leaving the Vietnam war next month and returning to the United States for at least six months, military sources said Friday.

The sources said the departure of the 56,000-ton battlewagon does not represent a de-escalation of the war. But they conceded the possibility that the New Jersey might never return to Vietnam, depending on the way the war and the peace talks in Paris go.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, are forecast to average near normal with a slow warming trend Sunday through Wednesday. Normal highs are 35 to 40 in the north and 40 to 45 in the south, while normal lows are 16 to 21. Precipitation is forecast to average about .10 of an inch occurring as snow Saturday and rain or snow Tuesday or Wednesday.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, temperatures are forecast to average 2 to 4 degrees below normal with a slow warming trend Sunday through Wednesday. Normal highs are 45 to 51 and normal lows are 18 in the northwest to 29 in the southeast. Precipitation is forecast to average .10 to .25 of an inch occurring as rain or snow in the east Saturday and mostly west Tuesday or Wednesday.

Summary Of Conditions

A main low is located over eastern Colorado and another far south in Texas. The Colorado low will be semi-stationary the next 12 hours and then will move slowly eastward.

There will be no large change in the weather during the next 24 to 36 hours due to the slow moving system. Some local areas may receive up to a maximum of 12 inches. Skies throughout the period will be considerably cloudy. Temperatures will show no large changes, but Saturday there will be areas of locally colder conditions with a cooler air mass slowly moving in.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One might wonder these days if it is possible to be too well organized. You might ask the question in regard to both President Richard M. Nixon and Nebraska's Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

The President has let it be known that he intends to continue certain anti-poverty programs such as Head Start and the Job Corps but to place them under a different federal agency. Their current administrative headquarters is the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), which would be continued.

But it is easy to suspect that the OEO is on the way out. The administration has said it has found it advantageous to have one office in Washington devoted to programs for the poor.

A number of things could happen, however, to change the emphasis in Washington. As an innovator and initial operator of new anti-poverty programs, OEO would lack a permanent nature.

This might adversely affect its attractiveness to prospective employes. Secondly, programs handled first by one agency and then another might well experience a gap that could be discouraging to them.

It would seem that such a system might also encourage an administrative waste rather than a savings. Just about the time a program was fully manned and got to running well, it would be assigned another home. That might turn out to be less efficient, not more.

Also, to shift existing programs such as Head Start and the Job Corps will not necessarily strengthen them. They will be placed in other departments which now have a multiplicity of responsibilities and whose orientation is not toward relief of the poor.

It is wondered if this transfer will help the programs or get them lost in a bureaucratic shuffle.

At the state level, it has become almost a daily occurrence for some top administrator to resign. It really is not quite that bad but we have had recent changes in three major departments and a fourth prior to that.

Governor Tiemann is reported to be imposing the business-like practices of which he talked in his campaign for office. If department heads are not business-like enough for him, he makes life so miserable for them that they resign.

The governor, of course, is known to be at odds with independent agencies of government headed by boards or commissions. Also, he champions a bill in the Legislature to make most elective state offices appointive.

Once again, it is a matter of opinion as to what the ultimate consequences of all this will be. But it seems to us that an officer such as a governor could go too far in the control he seeks to exercise over permanent organizations of state government.

What any governor should guard against is disregard for the fact that most state jobs are careers, not just a place to land for a few years or so. Permanency in state government is just as important as ability or anything else.

No governor should seek to install a system whereby the whole administrative house of state government is toppled every time the name is changed in the governor's office. This could be the heritage that Governor Tiemann would leave us if he is successful in all his efforts.

As for "sound business practices," it might be pointed out that there is no magic in that. A lot of business practices are not very sound, at all, and the practices of government are often just as efficient or more so as those found in private enterprise.

'Now I'm A New Man'

New Name, New Image?

Opponents of the House Un-American Activities Committee came as close this week as they have in nearly 20 years in the attempt to abolish entirely the controversial panel, but they failed. Instead, the House voted to change the name to the House Internal Security Committee and, hopefully, its image.

Apparently in response to the well-founded pleas of those who want at least a change in the character of the committee, if not its abolition, the house gave it a revised statement of purpose supposedly to squelch constitutional objections to procedures the committee has used in the past. The action, according to new chairman, Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., "will bring to a close a long period of controversy."

Another image-changing move was taken last month in a reshuffling of the membership when four liberal-to-moderate Democrats were named to sit on the nine-member panel, including its first Negro, Louis Stokes of Ohio.

The committee was first organized in 1938 as a "special committee to investigate un-American activities and propaganda." It was from this forum that Rep. Richard Nixon of California later pressed his investigation of Alger Hiss.

For the most part, however, the 31-year history of HUAC has been one of failure. In its penchant for inquisition, witch-hunting and Red-baiting and in insulting the individual conscience, the committee has sullied the reputations of many true Americans as well as its own and has not served its purpose of keeping Congress aware of internal security problems.

Ruefully, Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif., says the recent House action is like "changing the name of the 'Dogpatch Skunk Works' to the 'Ozark Perfume Factory'." We are inclined to agree.

Crete Returns To Normal

Things are never quite the same after a tragedy such as the one that struck Crete this week but the college community is now beginning to return to normal. What will be long missed are the people who lost their lives in the wake of a train derailment which sent poisonous anhydrous ammonia into the west section of the town.

But long remembered will be the outstanding assistance rendered the people who needed help by the volunteer firemen, the National Guard, Doane College students and a host of others. As is invariably the case, Crete residents found that adversity brings out the best in people.

Crete will remember, too, that had it not been prepared in advance for some such emergency, the death toll would have unquestionably been higher than it was. And it now has the unhappy responsibility to determine if its preparation were sufficient.

It will be joined in this by others, such as the federal government's Department of Transportation, seeking to determine the weaknesses that permitted this thing to happen. Certainly such state agencies as the military, the governor's office and the state fire marshal will want to determine what, if anything, may be done to help prevent anything like this from happening in the future.

All of Nebraska extends to the people of Crete sincere sympathy for the tragedy they have experienced. And every Nebraska community should be pondering the current state of its own emergency preparedness.

Protection For Dove

Byron, Neb.

The blue jay and the robin are protected by law from the hunters, but if LB236 becomes a law, it would legalize the killing of mourning doves as game birds. The doves would not have the protection which now insures their lives against the rapid decimation which would surely follow such a law.

I urge Nebraskans to strike down LB236.

Ending The Draft

Wayne, Neb.

"The right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" are words that are dangerous to forget. Statists ignore historical and even present-day examples of their philosophy. They have to. But the great men who founded the United States were not advocates of more government power and for obvious reasons. Look at any nation at any time in history and it is found that countries with the highest standards of living always have the most freedom. Today it is America which is based on a free-market economy.

A free-market economy means that men trade products in the strict absence of coercion. A man with quality goods has no need or desire for force; likewise, if a customer is not satisfied with one product, he is free to trade with someone else.

That is why the draft is so evil. The government does not have to make the armed services good enough to attract men, nor does it have to seriously consider the rationality of plunging the American people into a senseless, altruistic project like Vietnam. With the present draft law, men are forced to let the state make their decision of whether they should live or die and how they should live or die. Without the draft, Americans would regain the right to life and the right to have a direct voice in military policies. If an undertaking would not be justified, the number of volunteers would drop and the government would be forced to abandon its project. Any project that has so little value that it cannot be sold to the people should be abandoned. By not having to consider these aspects, government decision-makers have begun to think of draftees as a commodity which by no right is theirs to do with as they please. Ending the draft would end this shocking injustice.

Paying Wheel Tax

Lincoln, Neb.

Our Legislature should authorize both Lincoln and Omaha by state statute to collect taxes from those who use their streets regularly.

Employers should be required to furnish names and addresses of all employes working in the cities and living elsewhere. This could also be done by all our colleges and the University of Nebraska at each semester at the time of registration.

Students could pay by the semester, computed to about 75 cents per month, while actually going to school in either Omaha or Lincoln.

Let's all pay. We need the money to patch the streets.

Pheasant Hunting

Edgar, Neb.

A while back I sent a letter to the Game Department in regard to our pheasants being in serious trouble with all this snow and cold and not much protective cover for the birds.

They tell us farmers to plant more trees for the pheasants for cover, and also more grass, clover and alfalfa for nesting. I agree with this 100 per cent and have always preached this.

Now let's see the Game Department practice what it preaches. They have purchased some wetland. Let's see them plant five acres of cedar trees and a few plum trees, which the pheasants just love to use in winter. Also 40 acres of grass, clover and alfalfa for nesting. A few acres like that in the country and the birds will take care of themselves.

Hunting pressure under normal conditions is not going to hurt the population of our pheasants. The longer you hunt that old rooster, the smarter he gets and the way he runs, I believe his legs are getting longer.

VIRGINIA PAYETTE

The Four-Day Weekend Apparently Here To Stay

NEW YORK — Has anybody else begun to notice what is happening to Friday? The signs are upon us that this last day of the work week is dribbling away, just the way Saturday went a generation ago.

It all begins with a little longer lunch on Friday. TGIF (Thank God, It's Friday) clubs abound in the land, and on that day just about any public eating place is a little, or a lot, noisier and much more liquid.

Not a lot of work gets done after that, naturally. So it's only sensible to leave a little early.

And, once that routine is accepted, it's only reasonable to stay a little longer at the desk, skip lunch and duck out for the afternoon. (Remember one o'clock Saturdays?)

If you live in a big city, everyone understands you have to leave early to beat the weekend traffic. The affluent society helps here, too. You've got to get to the country, or the lake, or the shore, or the island, or up the mountain before dark, or it rains, or the guests get there, or something.

This is good for a big bite out of Monday, too. It would be foolish not to wait until the early city-bound traffic thins out, now, wouldn't it? Add to this the normal quota of hunting seasons, two or three kinds of fishing, a few winter sports, and blooie!

The lawmakers, who have worked on this for years, have cut the pattern. After five weeks this year, during which Congress confirmed Mr. Nixon's cabinet appointments and voted themselves a 40 per cent raise, the two houses recessed for 10 days for Lincoln's Birthday.

Congressmen who don't believe in this sort of thing are victims of the majority who want to close up shop. Many of the lawmakers are likely to be found on Capitol Hill only on the middle three days of the week. They don't call 'em 'the Tuesday-to-Thursday Club" for nothing, you know.

In Los Angeles the County Board of Supervisors used to adjourn "out of respect" to almost anybody on Friday. On Wednesdays the "respectee" had to be a little better known.

Friday is a good day to get sick, too, running along with Monday as the unhealthiest days of the week, especially if Thursday or Tuesday is a holiday.

Bad weather is another boon to the Fun Friday crowd. Inbound streets always seem more likely to be impassable on Friday, although the outbound routes seem to work all right.

Not everyone is taking this lying down, however. An old friend, who was running his business back when Saturday was still a working day, now shows up on weekends and holidays. As encouragement to the help, you might say. But when he has a little flaw. He doesn't show up much on other days any more.

Now, if you will all excuse me, I've got to leave. It's Friday, you know.

Congress Wants Definite Nixon Program

WASHINGTON — It has now been a month since Richard M. Nixon took the oath to be president of the United States, in one of the most inspiring inauguration ceremonies in history after one of the closest elections in history.

The general appraisal of newsmen during that one month is that he has done well. The general appraisal of congressional leaders is that he has failed to set forth a domestic program for them to follow. This is expressed privately, and in varying degree, according to whether the congressmen are Republicans or Democrats, since the congressional honeymoon is still very much in force.

Nevertheless, it remains a fact that any new president, within his first month in office, customarily sends to Congress a State of the Union message outlining his program for the nation and the legislation he wants Congress to pass to implement that program. Instead, President Nixon is leaving two days hence for a whirlwind tour of Europe.

It has leaked out that there has been division among his advisers as to whether he should send such a message to Congress, and the majority opinion has been negative.

In general, it has been felt that the new President should give the nation a cooling-off period, that there is no immediate crisis, that the public needs a respite from too much legislation.

On the other hand, Democratic leaders say that, failing to get a Nixon program, they must go ahead with the Johnson program, and this is exactly what they are proceeding to do.

The former President outlined a comprehensive program in his last State of the Union message, and Democratic leaders in both the House and Senate are proceeding to enact the appropriations to carry it out. So unless the new Republican President comes along with something soon, the nation will see Johnson hangover legislation governing the United States for another year.

Furthermore, congressional leaders would like to see the new President's concrete and final ideas on such bedrock domestic issues as public housing, the anti-poverty program, education, anti-trust, banking monopoly, small business, and agriculture.

Nixon has managed rather astutely to modify his campaign promises about missile superiority to missile sufficiency; and has also climbed down from his protectionist views on foreign trade. But the Congress definitely needs to know how he feels about such a burning issue as the big cities, some of which are almost bankrupt, and all of which face the problems of public housing, slum clearance, better schools and racial friction.

In Washington, the new President has made an excellent start by reappointing Mayor Walter Washington and promising to rebuild the riot-torn sections of the city. But as a congressman and senator he had a 100 per cent anti-housing record. He voted to cut the low-rent housing program to a trickle, to raise GI interest rates for purchasing veterans housing, and in four different cases voted against rent controls. Today both Republicans and Democrats in Congress would like some guidelines as to how Nixon feels about housing.

On education, Nixon, as vice president, was called upon to break a Senate tie, regarding the amendment introduced by Sen. Joe Clark, D-Pa., authorizing federal aid to education. Nixon's deciding vote was against federal aid, and as a result it did not get on the statute books until the Johnson administration five years later.

In the recent campaign, Nixon was ambiguous regarding education generally and straddled the fence specifically when it came to using federal education funds to force desegregation.

With the new President thus taking two exactly opposite stands both in his campaign speeches and his executive rulings, congressional leaders feel very strongly that he should lay his policies categorically and definitely on the line in a formal message to Congress and that this should have been done before any trip to Europe.

Lindsay Popularity At Low Ebb In New York; Democratic Politics Might Assure Re-Election

NEW YORK — Since the snowstorm that brought this crippled behemoth of a city to a standstill, the abuse of poor John Lindsay has grown to a shriek of indignation.

Coming on top of the school strike last fall, with the bitter hostility it developed between Jew and Negro, the Mayor's goose would seem to be finally and thoroughly cooked. He is saying that he has not yet decided whether he will seek a second term this fall or not. Why he would want to is the pertinent question.

Yet, Lindsay is an ambitious man and the avenues to higher office that might free him from the trap are closed. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller intends to run for a fourth term. Two Republican senators, Jacob Javits, just re-elected, and Charles Goodell, appointed by Rockefeller to a short term, have no intention of moving over for Lindsay. And returning to the House of Representatives, where he started, is hardly an alluring goal.

More astonishing than the likelihood he will run again is the chance that he will be re-elected. As of the present, it is inconceivable. A challenger in the primary or even a moderately strong Democrat could win, by current reading, hands down.

But the wrecking factor in the warring ranks of the Democrats cannot be discounted. The New York mayorality election is the most conspicuous contest in this off-year. If the Democrats could win it, they would have a leg up for 1970 and the congressional elections. Uniting on a strong candidate, they could without a doubt defeat the beleaguered mayor.

All the auguries point, however, in the opposite directon. Democratic candidates — liberal, conservative, bossed and unbossed — are about to come out of the woodwork in swarms. They promise to cut each other up into small pieces long before the November election. If anything can pull Lindsay out of the pit, this will do it.

One Democrat has already declared Congressman James H. Scheuer of the Bronx is conducting a vigorous campaign for the nomination. With a broad background in public housing and independent resources, Scheuer has demonstrated his ability in two terms in the House. Of Jewish origin, he would, with his involvement in the urgent needs of the city, have at least a chance to bring together the two hostile ethnic groups, Negro and Jew.

Waiting in the wings are at least three other House Democrats, and borough presidents and city council members galore. With a conspicuous conservative on the ballot getting the organization vote, the liberals would each fight for a share of the normally liberal Democratic electorate with the stamp of the organization and a carry-over of embitterment and frustration among those normally voting the Democratic or the liberal line.

To write in these terms—the tired, old politics—has a frivolous sound. Against the ominous backdrop of what must be done if New York City is to be rescued, the politics of the past is as irrelevant as Warren Harding's normalcy.

Lindsay said the other day that the cuts in the help the city hopes to get from the state, as announced by Rockefeller in accord with the squeeze on state revenues, will drive what remains of the middle class out of New York. Only the very rich and the very poor will be left.

The city may not be officially bankrupt, but the figures are so appalling as to add up to something close to it. The total indebtedness, including bonded indebtedness, is more than $5 billion. The relief rolls tell the most devastating story. More than a million persons live off relief in one form or another. The cost has gone in 10 years from $200,000,000 to $1.4 billion.

Within the frame of the politics of the past, it all has an insoluble look. Nothing short of a coalition, a nonpartisan approach, a radical departure from politics as usual, would have a chance. The responsibility within the old framework is clear enough — a Republican mayor, a Republican governor, a Republican President.

The snowstorm was merely a happenstance, showing again how precarious the balance is. But perhaps it did show how time is running out. Another happenstance, another accident, could bring disaster even as long-term plans, such as equalizing relief payments among the states, are endlessly debated.

Cadet Jon Camp Wins In Freedom Foundation's Test

Air Force Academy, Colo. (UPI) — Officials at the Air Force Academy said Wednesday sophomore Cadet Jon Camp was one of 12 airmen named winners of the 1968 Freedom Foundation's letter writing contest.

Camp was informed of the honor at the Lackland Air Force Base Hospital in Texas where he has been a patient since the Christmas holidays.

Camp was seriously injured and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernal R. Camp of Lincoln, Neb., were killed in an auto accident.

Cadet Camp's winning letter stressed the importance of every citizen exercising his right to vote.

City Planning Story Misleading

An error in Thursday morning's report of the City-County Planning Commission hearing seems to imply an incorrect statement.

Attorney Robert Weigel told the Commission that a requested zoning change to permit a medical village near the new St. Elizabeth Hospital would not open a "Pandora's box" of zoning to other types of businesses in the area. The story seemed to imply that Weigel had said the opposite.

City Planning Engineer Douglas Brogden opposed the request, saying that granting it could open up the area to other businesses.

A sparkling blue day in green Jamaica. The Princess Carla slid into Kingston harbor this morning on her maiden voyage. She is the newest cruise liner of the Princess Cruises fleet — Caribbean ports, the Canal, Acapulco and Los Angeles.

She is manned by 300 Italian sailors and tons of pasta to be stuffed into 750 passengers.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's been a last minute rush to sell me a woven Jamaica hat with the snappy sea island cotton band — "Happy Memories of Jamaica."

The hat sellers have been working on me for several days. Mr. Information. Cut-rate Charlie. Patrick the Friend to Man.

If I go without buying one, they will feel like a car salesman who let a ripe one get away.

Mr. Information gets a hat on my head and pulls me in front of a mirror.

"Look in de mirror, my boss! Look at him in de mirror! Best t'ing mek you happy when you arrive back in de States, my boss!'

☆ ☆ ☆

I said: "Information, I don't have any money on me now. Maybe later."

Mr. Information holds up his hands — in horror? Hope?

Egbert, a 14-year-old who works for me (half a buck a day but he doesn't do anything) says Information "have a 'stressful look pon he face."

Information said: "Who say anyt'ing about money, my boss? You take it for free. My gift to you, my boss!"

This is tricky salesmanship. I'm sure if I take the hat, Information will sell me a strow bag.

What kind of ingrate would I be to take a hat and not buy a bag?

☆ ☆ ☆

The woven hat and bag sellers have various prices. "Mek you bery good price this morning, my boss. Just to brek de ice."

When the cruise passengers come in the morning, the prices are up.

By the time they drag back to the ship in the afternoon, the prices are down.

"Las' chance, my boss! I mus' sell cheap so I go back to my island tomorrow. I sell for half what it cost me, my boss!"

☆ ☆ ☆

The Princess Carla is headed for Grenada. For Caracas and Aruba and the islands of the summer seas.

"I have lots of places to buy hats. Information," I said. "I can buy a hat in Grenada."

Mr. Information now has a more 'stressful look pon he face.

"Grenada?, sah? Oh, my boss, I beg you don't buy Grenada hats, sah! Dose Grenada hat is no good, my boss. Dose Grenada hat made of cheap palm. Dose Grenada hat fall apart, my boss.

"Grenada people dey cheat you," said Mr. Information. "Look, my boss, I give you de hat. Free for you, my boss."

☆ ☆ ☆

I paid Egbert off. He gives me his last information. Looking at the blue sky, he says: "Don't mek de rain now, my boss."

Egbert speaks the island patois. Sometimes I get him mostly I don't.

Islanders speak a mixture. English with a local accent. A few words of papamiento from the Dutch islands. A touch of Haiti French. A word or two of Spanish.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Princess Carla is described as all first-class. But some are more first-class than others.

This is a 34-day excursion — though we don't take all of it.

Prices start at $1,190 and go up to $3,740 for the luxury suites.

You can fly half of it, sail the rest.

We are getting away without a hat. It's a blow that Information, Cut-Rate Charlie and Patrick will have a long time getting over.

Teachers Urged To Withhold Signing Commitment Cards

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Education Association Council Thursday voted to recommend that its membership withhold notice to sign teaching contracts for next year until after the first few negotiating sessions with the Board of Education.

Council members agreed to suggest that teachers not sign commitment cards until after the March 20 council meeting, when the status of negotiations on the 1969-70 salary schedule and other matters can be considered.

The forms, slated to be sent to teachers in the latter part of March, are not due in the personnel office until April 15, according to administrative assistant Lauren Holcombe.

Teachers must sign the district forms indicating that they intend to return to Lincoln another year or that they do not intend to return to Lincoln.

Contracts will not be prepared and offered to teachers intending to return until after salaries are established in the negotiating session, Holcombe explained.

Council members were given letters from the LEA salary committee to distribute to teachers "clarifying that the differentiated salary schedule proposed by the school board will not be negotiated this year."

Misrepresented

A. J. Mueller, committee chairman, said that school board president Dr. John Lux, in a letter to teachers detailing the board's proposal, "misrepresented our true position when he stated that we felt that the differentiated salary plan was 'great.'

"We suggested that teachers, by their vote, were willing to study the idea of a differentiated staff salary," he emphasized.

LEA President Richard Nagele informed the council that he had complained to the Nebraska State Education Association about a news story in the NSEA News on the board's proposal.

The story, Nagele said, "in essence supported the local board against the local association" in reporting about the new salary concept.

Lack Of Support

In the past "we have expressed concern about lack of leadership by NSEA." Now we add our "concern about the lack of support," Nagele said he wrote the NSEA.

NSEA Executive Secretary John Lynch had responded that the salary schedule was news and was reported as such.

A tentative budget for $45,622 was proposed for the LEA next year, but no action was taken. Treasurer Gunnar Overgaard said that the proposed budget does not include any funds to pay the LEA president next year.

Northrup Heads Mayor's Finance Advisory Board

Robert Northrup was elected chairman of the Mayor's Capital Improvements Finance Advisory Board Thursday.

Northrup is vice president in charge of the investment department at the First National Bank.

John L. Alden of Bankers Life Nebraska was named vice chairman.

The board received preliminary copies of the capital improvements program for the next six years involving several of the city departments.

The board must recommend what financing should be done to pay for the improvements.

Jackie Gleason Is Granted Right To Seek Divorce

New York (AP) — Comedian Jackie Gleason has been granted the right to seek a divorce from his wife of 33 years, despite the objections of Mrs. Gleason.

State Supreme Court Justice Hyman Korn dismissed Mrs. Gleason's objections Thursday.

The Gleasons were legally separated 15 years ago. Mrs. Gleason was granted the separation on grounds of abandonment.

In the current case, she contended that since Gleason had been judged guilty nine years ago, he could not come into court now for a divorce and profit from his alleged guilt.

Korn said he found no merit in Mrs. Gleason's challenge.

OEO Officials Evaluating LAP Seek To Determine If Poor 'Have Voice'

Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) officials evaluating the Lincoln Action Program (LAP) wanted to know if poor persons are "being taught to help themselves and to realize they have a voice in their welfare," the team leader reported Thursday.

Ending a four-day routine evaluation visit here, Gentry Brown of Kansas City, Mo., explained that the seven-member team has attempted to determine "involvement of the poor in programs, including planning, operation and evaluation."

Evaluation of OEO programs by low-income persons has recently been advocated by the antipoverty agency, Brown said.

Not Disclosed

However, findings of the evaluation team regarding those questions were not disclosed Thursday. Brown indicated that an evaluation may be compiled in two weeks, but that it might not be released in its entirety to the LAP board of directors.

The board "will receive some kind of report," he said.

A report on LAP's routine evaluation last year was never received by the board or staff, according to LAP director Art May.

Brown explained that evaluations of community action programs are not usually released to the board or the press because evaluators look for negative factors to "find areas we think we could help them improve."

Seem Negative

As a result, evaluation reports appear to be entirely negative and would convey the wrong impression about a program, he said. A positive report, he added, would be "labeled a whitewash."

The seven evaluators — including four OEO officials, two technical consultants to evaluate Head Start and a member of the Nebraska Technical Assistance Agency — talked to every person employed by LAP and most of the board members, according to Brown.

Agencies which work with the LAP, such as housing authorities, Social Security and employment bureaus also have been contacted, he said.

Supreme Court Orders New Trial Of Teacher's Suit Against NSEA

By Associated Press

The Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday ordered a new district court trial of the libel suit which resulted in Winnebago teacher Berenice G. Whitcomb winning a $38,500 judgment against the Nebraska State Education Association.

A majority opinion of the high court held that the Lancaster County District Court failed properly to instruct the jury that the burden had been on the teacher to prove that certain NSEA statements were published with actual malice.

Mrs. Whitcomb, until 1965, had been a guidance counsellor and librarian at the Winnebago Public Schools.

Trial testimony indicated Mrs. Whitcomb, in 1961, confronted the school superintendent with a conduct complaint against him, but did not report the complaint to the school board.

When Mrs. Whitcomb was not rehired in 1965—four years later—she demanded a written statement from the board to that effect, and was advised in writing she would not be rehired because she had been causing dissension and was dissatisfied with the superintendent.

She then asked the NSEA, professional teachers organization, to investigate personnel policies of the Winnebago schools.

The NSEA Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities made a preliminary investigation, and ordered a full investigation by a five-member committee of NSEA members.

The report of this latter committee recommended that the membership of Mrs. Whitcomb in the NSEA, as well as the membership of the previous superintendent, be terminated and that action be taken to revoke their teaching certificates.

Mrs. Whitcomb then brought suit alleging libel in this committee report, and a jury in Lincoln awarded her $38,500.

Writing for the Supreme Court majority in reversing the judgment and remanding the case for new trial, Judge Harry Spencer said the district judge failed to instruct the jury as to who had the burden of proving actual malice. This was particularly prejudicial because the trial court directed that the statements complained of by Mrs. Whitcomb "are actionable and libelous per se."

"All of the burdens were placed on the defendants (NSEA)," Spencer wrote. "From the size of the verdict, it is evident the jury considered the matters complained of to have been motivated by actual malice."

The opinion called attention to a 1957 addition to the libel laws saying in effect that a libelled person must ask for, and be given, a correction or retraction in order to collect any more than actual damages, unless it is alleged and proved that the publication was prompted by actual malice.

Retraction Feature

Mrs. Whitcomb made no effort to comply with this retraction feature of the law, the opinion said.

Judge Hale McCown dissented from the majority opinion on this point. McCown maintained that the provisions for publication of a correction "are clearly aimed at a public purveyor of news and information," such as a newspaper, and are not applicable to the NSEA report involved in the Whitcomb case.

Judge Robert L. Smith concurred with the majority but in a supplementary opinion, suggested the majority opinion does not answer the question: Is the judgment under review a product of an unconstitutional interference with free expression?

Judge Leslie Boslaugh dissented in part and concurred in part with the majority.

Court Upholds Judgments In Blue Sky Law Action

The State Supreme Court Thursday upheld the Hall County District Court in requiring Secretary of State Frank Marsh and other defendants to pay judgments of $2,500 each to the plaintiffs in a blue sky law action.

Charles J. and Maud E. Huryta of Grand Island obtained the judgments.

Blue sky laws relate to the requirement that Department of Banking permission be obtained for the sale of securities.

The Hurytas in 1965 purchased 250 shares of stock in the National Management Corp., Inc., from salesman Marvin Wilson for $2,500. Later the Hurytas brought suit to rescind the sale, return the stock to defendants and recover the purchase price.

Named defendants to the suit were the corporation itself; William G. White, president; Gilbert E. Deitemeyer, vice president; Frank Marsh, secretary-treasurer; Robert W. York and F. Stanton Brown, directors, and Marvin Wilson. The appeal to the Supreme Court was carried by all these defendants except the corporation and William G. White.

Among other things, the appealing defendants contended the district court erred in requiring each of the appellants to pay $2,500 to the Hurytas. The Supreme Court said such recovery is provided by law.

In other opinions Thursday, the Supreme Court:

—Upheld the Dodge County District Court in sentencing Herbert C. Stock to 10 years imprisonment on his plea of guilty to manslaughter in the beating death of his 20-month old daughter.

—Affirmed the Douglas County District Courty jury conviction of James McIntire for burglary in Omaha.

—Upheld the Douglas County District Court in denying policeman John Watts his requested writ of mandamus which would have forced the city of Omaha by resolution to pay full monthly salary benefits for permanent disability received by Watts while in line of duty. The Supreme Court held that a writ of mandamus was not a proper remedy under the circumstances.

While you're saving money for college, make sure there's a college to save money for.

There are all kinds of ways to save money for a college education.

A good savings account.

Life insurance.

Or U.S. Savings Bonds.

You see, U.S. Savings Bonds will not only save you money, but they'll insure your country's future at the same time.

It's one way of making sure there's a college whenever you're ready to send somebody to college.

But back to the money part.

Let's say you buy your one-year-old son a $25.00 Bond every month. When he's 18 and ready for college, he'll have $5,506.00.

A $50.00 Bond every month would give him $11,012.00 when he's ready to enroll.

And the beauty is, you never have to worry about this investment.

You simply sign up through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work and then sit back and let the money pile up.

Savings Bonds now pay a new higher rate—4¼%—when held to maturity of 7 years.

And if they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury Department will replace them free.

Also, with each Series E Bond you buy, you're entitled to buy the same or lower denomination Freedom Share.

Which pays 5% when held to maturity of 4½ years and is redeemable after one year.

Any way you look at it, buying U.S. Savings Bonds makes sense.

They not only get the kids ready for college.

They keep the colleges ready for the kids.

You get a little over $4 for every $3 you invest.

County-City Building Maintenance And Food Service Provisions Set

Provisions for maintenance and food service in the new County-City Building were made Thursday with the hiring of a building engineer and awarding a contract for a cafeteria operation.

According to County Board Chairman Kenneth Bourne, Henry Lorenz, 41, of 888 Elmwood, who is a stationary first-class engineer licensed by the City of Lincoln, will assume duties March 10 as building engineer, at a salary of $675 per month.

Lorenz, who has been building superintendent at the Elks Lodge for the past 19 months, was operational engineer at the University of Nebraska for 11 years and at Lincoln General Hospital for six months prior to that.

The contract for the food service operation on the fourth floor of the new building was awarded Robert Logsdon, who also operates the State Capitol cafeteria.

According to Bourne, the contract provides that Logsdon will receive everything up to $4,000 gross volume monthly income, while on anything over and above that amount, the city and county will receive 6%.

The city and county are to furnish all equipment except pots, pans and dishes.

Logsdon said that the operation would be almost identical to that at the Statehouse with his mother, Mrs. Raymond Logsdon, supervising both operations.

He estimated it would be nearly two months before the equipment could be obtained and installed and ready for operation.

Investment Council Reports Funds Increase By $875,000

The State Investment Council reported Thursday that the maturity value of the funds under its jurisdiction have increased by $875,000 since 1967.

Total maturity value of the three funds as of Jan. 15 was approximately $10.6 million. The funds are the Nebraska Veterans Aid Fund, the State Judges Retirement Fund and the State Patrol Retirement Fund.

Council spokesmen said the total increase was broken down into a $332,000 increase because of the council's investments and a $543,000 increase from outside additions to the funds.

The 1967 Legislature authorized the council to make investments in areas other than government bonds. Before 1967, the council could only purchase the lower-yielding government bonds.

Some of the corporation bonds now being purchased are yielding as high as 7¼ per cent, council spokesmen said.

The veterans fund increased about $298,000, with its annual income increasing about $109,725, the council said. The current value of the fund is $8,372,683.

The smaller judges and State Patrol funds increased by about $223,000 and $380,000, respectively. The bulk of the increases in the two funds were due to contributions to the funds.

State Rail Unit Slates Hearings

The Nebraska Railway Commission reported Thursday hearings have been set on applications to discontinue railroad agency service at Ansley and Elba.

Hearing was scheduled for March 5 in Lincoln on the Burlington's request to stop agency service at Ansley and for March 17 in Lincoln on the Union Pacific application to close its station at Elba.

First Arraignment Held In New Court

The first court arraignment to be held in the new County-City Building was held Thursday before Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles.

Handling the arraignment of Gregory L. Winingham, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, was Chief Deputy County Attorney William Blue, who also was the prosecutor in the last jury trial held in the old Courthouse.

Judge Boyles deferred sentencing of Winningham, 20, of 325 So. 27th, pending an investigation by the adult probation office.

Winningham was specifically charged with breaking and entering a home at 1000 Eldon Dr. Feb. 11.

Nebraska City School Absenteeism Goes Up

The highest number of pupils absent were from junior high where 90 were reported missing out of an enrollment of 360.

Iowa Legislators Ask Reinstitution Of Death Penalty

Des Moines (UPI) —Seven house Republicans introduced a bill which would re-establish the death penalty in Iowa.

The crimes for which the death penalty could be inflicted would be the same as they were under the capital punishment law repealed in 1965. However, the death penalty under the proposed law would be carried out by lethal gas.

Power to delay the execution was extended to the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general under the proposed bill.

FAA Mechanic Of Year Award Goes To Benger

Jeff Benger of Sidney was honored by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Thursday as the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) mechanic of the year in Nebraska.

Benger directs an airframe and power plant course at the Western Nebraska vocational-Technical School in Sidney. At 22, he is the youngest such course director ever approved by the FAA.

Benger received an FAA recognition plaque, plus a cash award supplied by Nebraska Aviation interests.

He becomes next a regional candidate for mechanic of the year. The regional winner competes for the national title.

State Elementary School Principals To Hold Meeting

The general topic of "interrelationships" will be examined by the Nebraska Department of Elementary School Principals when it holds its annual meeting Feb. 27-28 at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education in Lincoln.

About 200 elementary principals and superintendents from throughout Nebraska are expected at the meeting. Co-sponsor is the University of Nebraska department of elementary education.

Laurel M. Pennock, assistant executive secretary of the National Department of Elementary Principals, will give the keynote address Thursday at 9 a.m. on "Services Available to You from the D.E.S.P."

Other major addresses will be given by Dr. Earlyon Lamberty, associate executive secretary, Nebraska State Education Association; Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme; Dr. Max Poole, University of Nebraska; Dr. Floyd Miller, Nebraska Commissioner of Education; and Dr. Darrell Kellams, University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Vehicle Checks Must Stop, Says Inspection Chief

State Motor Vehicles Inspection Chief Ray Johnson said Thursday some garages and service stations are continuing to conduct inspections on a voluntary basis despite the fact the Legislature temporarily suspended the inspection rules last Monday.

Johnson said the inspections must stop "immediately" because they are invalid and the inspectors cannot be reimbursed for them.

The Unicameral's Public Works Committee has scheduled to meet Friday to review the rules drawn up by the Motor Vehicles Department.

Institutions' Budget Includes Greater Salary Uniformity

The Legislature's Budget Committee was told Thursday that greater salary uniformity is built into the Department of Institution's proposed budget for the Penal Complex and correctional institutions.

"Wages are being standardized within job classifications for the institutions, regardless of location," said Institutions Director Donald W. Duncan.

"It seems only fair to us that employes should be able to transfer between institutions without the necessity of pay adjustments."

Budgets Reviewed

Budgets reviewed by the nine-member committee with department officials included Penal Complex, $6,765,986; Girls Training School at Geneva, $1,005,531; Women's Reformatory at York, $416,237; and Boys Training School at Kearney, $2,089,101.

Corrections Director Maurice Sigler said starting salaries of 219 correctional officers, now at $395 per month, will move to $458 for the first year of the new biennium and to $505 in July 1970, under the governor's budget recommendation. The department has urged a step to $535.

Sigler said correctional officer salaries under the pay plan will be compatible with police salaries in the larger communities.

Kearney School

Supt. John McCarty of the Kearney Boys Training School reviewed improvements and new procedures instituted during the past year.

Asked to summarize the philosophical improvement, McCarty replied, "We're running the institution now. The kids were practically in charge last January (1968)."

Sigler advised the committee that Mrs. Gladys Ellensen, superintendent of the York Woman's Reformatory since 1960, will retire July 1.

She will be succeeded by Mrs. Madeline Gaffney, administrative assistant at the Geneva Training School for the past 14 years.

Carpenter Eyes New Limits For Medicaid Coverage Bill

Sen. Terry Carpenter Thursday said he will propose a major limitation on his bill expanding medicaid coverage to low-income persons who are not welfare recipients.

Carpenter said he is prepared to support an amendment providing that the first $250 in costs for any single illness be paid by the patient.

In fact, he noted, he may suggest that the exemption figure be boosted to $500 in order to win legislative approval of the bill.

Those exemptions would only affect low-income persons not on welfare, he said.

Carpenter's bill, LB19, is scheduled for initial floor debate Friday — although it may be delayed due to the absence of a number of senators.

Original provisions of the bill could have increased medicaid costs by $20 million a biennium, Carpenter estimated. On the basis of the present funding formula, state costs would have jumped $5 million or more.

His amendment will "reduce costs substantially," Carpenter noted.

"But these people have got to have some help.

"In most cases, they are unable to pay for major illnesses. They must be apprehensive not only about sickness, but about the financial problems which follow."

LB19 would extend medicaid eligibility to include single persons whose net annual income is $1,600 or less; to a family of two whose income does not exceed $2,200 a year, and to larger families whose income does not exceed $2,200 plus $400 for each dependent over the number of two.

Medicaid is now confined to recipients of aid to dependent children, the aged, blind and disabled.

Nielsen Is Top Beet Producer In 3-State Area

Minden — Marvin S. Nielsen, farm manager for the Paul Warp Enterprises located near here, was recognized this past week as the top beet producer in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Kansas and Nebraska in a contest sponsored by the Great Western Sugar Co.

A 10 acre plot planted March 28, 1968, by Nielsen yielded 24.48 tons per acre with no hand labor for hoeing or weeding.

Bill To Bar Road Grant Loss Moves

The Unicameral's Public Works Committee advanced to the floor Thursday a bill aimed at preventing unused federal highway grants to local subdivisions from reverting back to the federal government.

The vote approving the measure was 7-0. It is sponsored by State Sen. C. F. Moulton of Omaha.

Under present law, federal highway construction grants to cities and counties revert back to the federal government if not used within three years.

In most cases, the money is put to use within the alloted amount of time. However, there have been instances, the committee was told, where counties have been unable to raise the required matching money to get projects finished.

Under Moulton's proposal, the time limit for using federal dollars would be reduced to 18 months. If after that time, a local subdivision has not used the money it could be redistributed to a city or county that is able to make use of it immediately.

Also advanced by the committee was a bill which would require former inmates of state institutions, including the penal complex, to have a "certificate of competence" before they could operate a motor vehicle.

Heard and held by the committee was a bill to provide special license plates to members of volunteer fire departments and to exempt them from paying motor vehicle registration fees.

Leave-Of-Absence Guarantee Advanced

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Thursday inded first round floor approval to a bill which would guarantee elected or appointed state officials the right to a leave-of-absence from their private employment.

The proposal, LB225, cleared general file on a 31-11 vote after adoption of an amendment which removed elected local officials from similar protection under the act.

Sen. William Wylie's motion to kill the bill fell on a 14-27 count before affirmative action was taken.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chief sponsor of the measure, said he introduced the bill as a result of the discharge of Sen. Donald Elrod from his employment with the Grand Island newspaper.

Similar Problems

Elrod said two newly-elected senators are experiencing similar employment problems as a result of their absence from work during the legislative session.

Sen. Wayne Schreurs of Seward, a teacher, said he may have problems gaining a new contract at Seward High School next fall because of his absence to serve in the Unicameral.

Schreurs, however, is currently on a leave of absence.

Sen. Harold Simpson of Lincoln, an employe at Gooch Milling Co., said he might have lost his job when he was elected in 1966 if he had not belonged to a labor union.

All Segments

Other supporters of the bill said employment security is needed if state government is to be staffed with persons from all segments of society, including those who are not self-employed.

"We should reject the concept of royalty," Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha said.

"We don't want a Legislature just of rich people," Sen. Richard Proud of Omaha agreed.

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings said the Legislature needs representation from "a cross section" of society.

"Isolated Incident"

But Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha suggested that legislation "provoked by an isolated incident between Senator Elrod and his boss" would rest on a poor base.

"We have to make sacrifices to serve," Sen. Elmer Wallwey of Emerson said. Wallwey had to sell a small business to serve in the Legislature.

Solons Ask Costs Of Pope Case

By Associated Press

Nebraska's Legislature, at Sen. Terry Carpenter's request, instructed its Legislative Council staff Thursday to ascertain how much money has been spent in the prosecution and defense of admitted bank robber-killer Duane Earl Pope.

The Scottsbluff senator's motion, adopted on a voice vote, directed the researchers to determine the total costs, separated into attorney fees and other costs, with attorney fees "to be identified as to who received them and how much."

By court appointment, former Gov. Robert B. Crosby, now a Lincoln attorney, and University of Nebraska law professor Wallace M. Rudolph have represented the 25-year-old Pope as defense counsel during the prosecution.

Carpenter said his motion is designed to call attention to the amount of money and time being spent to protect a person who has admitted the slayings.

Pope was convicted in Federal District Court in Lincoln three years ago of killing three employes and maiming a fourth while robbing the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs just five days after his 1965 graduation from McPherson (Kan.) College.

The U.S. Supreme Court later set aside the death sentence pronounced on Pope, and a life term was substituted. Recently, Deuel County authorities have initiated prosecution on state murder charges which could bring a new death sentence.

Latest development came this week when Crosby and Rudolph moved that the Deuel County District Court dismiss the murder charges on grounds the death penalty provision in the law involved is unconstitutional.

Carpenter said he believes "tens of thousands of dollars" have been spent on the Pope case and the public should be aware of it.

Carpenter said he realizes the legal profession is bound by certain codes, but "if I were an attorney and the court asked me to defend the man, I'd turn them down."

Review Change Advanced

The Legislature Thursday gave 35-0 first round approval to a bill authorizing the state tax commissioner, instead of the Board of Equalization, to review county reappraisal valuations.

Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB394 is intended to curb arbitrary action on the part of county boards of equalization. An amendment proposed by Sen. Elvin Adamson to insure the counties could appeal the review was approved.

The chairman of the Revenue Committee, Sen. Jules Burbach, said a tax commission attorney assured the committee the act was constitutional.

Debate on the bill prompted Carpenter to say "if the tax laws on counties were enforced, we wouldn't have to raise the sales or the income tax."

Gaining 39-4 first round advancement was Sen. Harold Simpson's LB196, providing that health insurance shall cover services rendered by osteopaths. The bill was killed by the Banking Committee but revived on the floor.

Easter Vacation Set

The Legislature Thursday established its Easter vacation period for April 3-7.

Lawmakers will skip three normal legislative days during the long weekend recess.

New Bill Would Permit Sales Tax For Roads

By United Press International

A bill was introduced in the Nebraska Legislature Thursday to permit counties to levy a sales tax for highway construction and maintenance.

The measure, sponsored by State Sen. William R. Skarda Jr. of Omaha, was one of 22 bills tossed into the legislative hopper. So far, 1276 legislative proposals have been introduced.

Skarda's proposal would permit county boards to levy a half per cent sales tax on all purchases. However, the tax could not be levied until a county had reached its property tax mill levy ceiling.

The bill also restricts counties from levying the sales tax if it is also levying property tax for the same purpose, but this would not apply to property tax levies for bridge or culvert construction.

Similar Bill

A similar measure was sponsored by State Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha. It would permit counties to levy a wheel tax for road construction but the county boards rather than the Legislature would set the rate.

State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff introduced five bills, including companion measures for redistributing the tax from pari-mutuel betting. One of the two measures would also increase the parimutuel tax from 4% to 8%.

Under present law, the revenues from the pari-mutuel tax go into the state general fund.

State Aid Fund

Carpenter's proposal would place this money in the city-county state aid fund. From this, $100,000 would be allocated to each state fire marshal for upgrading local volunteer fire departments and each city would be allocated $50 a month for each fulltime policeman and fireman.

Carpenter was also co-sponsor, with three other lawmakers, of a bill to make it mandatory that a person serve at least 20 years in prison before he could be eligible for parole if his crime carried a maximum sentence of life imprisonment or death.

A bill introduced by State Sen. Henry F. Pedersen of Omaha would remove the current $100 a month limit on the amount of money for the care of children in state institutions.

Debate Is Slated On 3.2 Beer Bill

Debate on Sen. Terry Carpenter's motion to revive his bill authorizing the sale of 3.2 beer to persons 18 and older was scheduled for next Monday.

The bill, LB17, was killed by the Miscellaneous Subject Committee.

Twenty-five votes will be needed to raise the bill for consideration on the floor.

Africa Traveler To Speak

"When it comes to hustling the Africans, Red China is making both East and West look like kids," says John Peer Nugent, who will speak at Nebraska Wesleyan University at 10 a.m. Friday.

Nugent, who was Newsweek's first chief African correspondent has traveled black Africa from one end to the other. He has faced firing squads in Zanzibar, only to be saved by a cable to the British Government from Dean Rusk; imbibed with Kenyatta; been deported from South Africa for interviewing the Nobel Prize winner, Chief Albert Luthuli; had his car mistakenly blown up by U.N. forces, and survived beatings and cannibal attacks. He covered the Katanga wars, and was on hand when Guinea became the first black land to accept and then reject Communism.

A free-lance writer now, Nugent has written articles for many periodicals and a book, "CALL AFRICA 999."

Proposal To End County Property Tax Ceiling Advanced

A proposed constitutional amendment to remove the constitutional ceiling on county property tax levies was rushed to the floor of the Legislature Thursday by the Government and Military Affairs Committee.

In its place, the amendment would delegate statutory authority to the Legislature to establish and revise county mill levy limits.

The bill, LB816, won 8-0 approval.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who sponsored the proposal, said he intends to suggest that the amendment be submitted to a special election this year.

Special Election

Under terms of a constitutional change enacted last year, the Legislature may submit amendments to a special election if 40 senators concur. Otherwise, the amendment would have to await the 1970 general election.

"We need it now, not in two years," Carpenter said.

The Scottsbluff lawmaker said he may also propose a special election this year on a constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds for college and university dormitory construction.

Millions of dollars in such bonds are now beclouded by unresolved constitutional questions.

Urged By Ruhnke

A transfer to the Legislature of authority to establish levy ceilings was proposed by former Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth and accepted by the committee.

Ruhnke, who represents the Nebraska Association of County Officials, but who was speaking on his own, said 19 of the state's 93 counties have either reached or are about to bump into the 14.28-mill constitutional ceiling.

Another 14 counties have reached at least 13 mills, he said.

Douglas County will hit its ceiling in the coming year, and still be a full mill short of the amount of tax money needed to support its proposed budget, James Moylan told the committee. Its levy is now 13.97 mills.

Opposed Bill

Forrest Johnson, executive vice president of the Nebraska Tax Research Council, opposed the bill.

Counties could have access to additional funds through a number of bills now pending in the Legislature, including increased sales-income tax revenue, Johnson said. Or, he noted, the responsibility for funding state mental hospital patients could be transferred to the state.

Killed was an alternative proposal, LB815, which would have tripled the present ceiling.

Sent to the floor was LB684, which would permit counties or multi-county organizations to levy one mill in taxes to promote economic development.

At-Large Election

In other action, the committee sent to the floor LB174, providing for at-large election of Douglas County commissioners. They are now elected from five districts.

Also advanced from committee were LB259, providing for a printed explanation on the ballot of constitutional amendments proposed by the Legislature, and LB247, proposing a constitutional amendment to eliminate the reading of bills in full before they can be enacted by the Legislature.

Killed, on a 5-3 vote, was LB217, which would have permitted major emergency measures to be enacted by the Legislature within three legislative days. The minimum constitutional limit is now seven legislative days.

Hospital Unit's Meet To Be Rescheduled

A Friday meeting of the State Advisory Council on Hospital and Medical Facilities in Lincoln was temporarily cancelled Thursday because of the weather.

Council Director Verne Pangborn said the meeting would be rescheduled later.

Arkansas has 40 levee districts. They are established by county courts to assist persons whose lands are subject to water overflow.

State Tree Bill Advances

A bill making the cottonwood the state tree was sent to the floor of the Unicameral Thursday after its sponsor said its rejection might put Nebraska "in the embarassing position of having a state tree that no longer exists."

The Unicameral's Miscellaneous Affairs Committee sent the bill to the floor on a 6-0 vote after hearing testimony for it from its sponsor, State Sen. Loran Schmit of David City. Also testifying for the bill was State Forester Karl Laerch.

Schmit told the committee the present state tree, the American Elm, is dying out and soon will be extinct in the state.

Since the state has not made any efforts to save the tree, I would think we should designate another tree as the state tree rather than be caught in the embarassing position of having a state tree that no longer exists," he said.

The committee also passed to the floor a bill to bar liquor wholesalers from giving discounts to their customers. The committee had asked for an attorney general's opinion on whether the bill was constitutional. An opinion issued by the attorney general's office Wednesday said the bill is constitutional.

New Neighbors In Suburban Areas

As we all know, due to prevailing natural laws, "that which goes up must come down;" what many people probably haven't realized is that then that law is twisted around just a bit, things begin to look a bit better for a winter-weary Nebraska populace. You see, when dealing with a thermometer, that which goes down must come up — the only question now is, how long will that process take?-

Fortunately however, there are better things for Lincoln residents to do than to sit around waiting for the mercury to reverse its trend. For Mr. and Mrs. William Bottorf, current activity involves getting settled in a new home in Maple Village. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Bottorf and their one-year-old daughter, Chantel, moved from their former home at 3161 Shomo, Air Park West, to a new one at 8231 S. Cherrywood Dr.

The Eastborough neighborhood is also busy getting acquainted with some newcomers who have taken up residence at 357 W. Rio Rd. On the receiving end of the welcomes are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Skillet and children, Deborah, Curt and Denny, who formerly made their home at 4503 Baldwin.

Although the climatic conditions may not have been the most favorable, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wink didn't let the weather keep them from traveling to Fremont on Sunday, Feb. 9. The reason for their trip involved their grandson, Mark Hartman, who observed his very first birthday on that particular date. Mr. and Mrs. Wink were guests at a family party given by Mark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hartman. Also included in the get-together were Mark's sisters, Michelle and Patti, and Mr. Hartman's sister, Miss Kathleen Hartman of Lincoln.

An impromptu birthday party was on the agenda a week ago Wednesday for Southbrook Summit residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muhle. Arriving for a surprise visit that afternoon were Mr. Muhle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Muhle of Leigh whose brief stay turned into a celebration honoring Mrs. Muhle and her birthday anniversary which was on Feb. 12.

Making plans for some Saturday-evening entertaining are Kimberly Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brehm. Mr. and Mrs. Brehm will be host and hostess at a dinner party which will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mattison, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sowers, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koch.

Wedding Planned

Naming the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Chrisenda Holt, whose marriage to Michael Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Smith, will be solemnized Saturday evening, March 15.

Miss Jane Bjork of Des Moines, Iowa, will attend Miss Holt as maid of honor for the 7:30 o'clock wedding at Southview Christian Church, and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. Robert Stephens. Miss Johanna Holt will attend her sister as junior bridesmaid, and the flower girl will be Miss Jody Juricek.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Annette Holt and Miss Cheryl Holt, also sisters of the bride-to-be.

Robert Stephens will serve Mr. Smith as best man, and seating the guests will be Douglas Lawson and Mr. Smith's brother, Mark Smith.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Holt. A former student at the University of Nebraska, Mr. Smith currently is attending Nebraska Vocational School at Milford.

Alumnae Meeting

The February meeting of the Delta Gamma Alumnae will be held next Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Charles Thone, 1515 Circle Dr. Mrs. Tracy W. Donovan will be hostess chairman for the 10 o'clock coffee.

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Five Clubs. North leads the ace and another club, South following suit. How would you play the hand?

♠ A K ♥ A 10 9 ♦ K 7 ♣ K J 10 9 7 4	N W E S	♠ Q 8 ♥ J 5 4 ♦ A J 6 5 3 ♣ Q 3 2

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Spades and North leads the queen of hearts. How would you play the hand?

♠ A Q 10 8 2 ♥ K 9 4 ♦ A 6 ♣ A 9 3	N W E S	♠ J 9 7 4 ♥ A 6 2 ♦ J 8 5 3 ♣ Q 8

1. You can guarantee the contract 100% by winning the club in your hand, cashing the A-K of spades and K-A of diamonds, and leading a low heart from dummy to your nine.

When North wins with the king or queen he finds himself endplayed. A spade return would give you a ruff and discard, and a heart return would give you a free finesse.

North's only other possible return, a diamond, is bound to yield at least one extra diamond trick in dummy, regardless of how the adverse diamonds are divided.

2. Win with the king and return a low club towards the queen. If North has the king, he can do no better than win it and lead another heart. Take this in dummy with the ace, cash the queen of clubs, play a diamond to the ace, and discard dummy's remaining heart on your ace of clubs. You make either ten or eleven tricks, depending on whether or not the trump finesse succeeds.

Of course, it may turn out that South has the king of clubs, in which case your effort to establish an extra club trick will fail. But, even so, you still have a good chance to make the contract. Assume South takes the queen of clubs with the king and returns a heart. Win in dummy with the ace, lead the jack of spades, and finnesse. It is true that if the finnesse loses, you go down, but at least you've given yourself two chances to make the contract by playing for North to have the king of clubs or for South to have the king of spades.

It would be wrong to win the opening lead in dummy and take an immediate trump finnesse. This would give you only one chance of making the contract, and, obviously, two chances are better than one.

At a 7 o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, Feb. 15, the wedding of Miss Sandra Kay Heybrock of Lincoln, daughter of Louie Heybrock of Fremont, and the late Mrs. Heybrock, and Roscoe Edward Dickinson, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Dickison of St. Louis, Mo., took place at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lincoln. Dr. Benjamin Lane read the lines of the service, and Dr. Conrad Morgan played the wedding music. Dr. Morgan, accompanied by Dale Fleck, also was the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Dwain Meyer of Ames, Iowa, the matron of honor, and bridesmatron Mrs. Marlan Watson of Shawnee Mission, Kan., were costumed alike in slim, red velvet floorlength skirts and long sleeved white crepe blouses fashioned with lace collars and jabots.

Paul Seevers served as best man, and seating the guests were John Smith of Morgantown, W.Va., and Larry Ferguson of Fremont..

The bride chose a gown of white peau de soie for her wedding. The long-sleeved bodice was patterned with Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and sequins, and the embroidered lace motif accented the Empire line of the bodice and was repeated to completely veil the chapel train of the long, A-line skirt.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and received her Master's degree from the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City. She now is extension foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Nebraska. Mr. Dickinson was graduated from the University of Missouri and received his Master's degree at the University of Nebraska where he now is working toward his doctorate in biochemistry.

We Hear That

Lincoln friends of Mrs. Stewart M. Patton of Anchorage, Alaska, the former Ruby Barrett of Lincoln, will be interested to learn that she was named one of the 10 best-dressed career women in Anchorage at a fur show held Saturday, Feb. 15, in the Anchorage Westward Hotel. Mrs. Patton, who served as office manager with Prudential Insurance Company's district office in Lincoln, is now executive secretary with the bureau of land management in Anchorage.

TRIO of WINTER BRIDES

The marriage of Miss Judith Lynn Allen of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Allen of Grand Island, to Thomas F. Novacek, son of Mrs. Gladys Matulka of Valparaiso, was solemnized Saturday evening, Feb. 1, at Blessed Sacrament Church in Grand Island. The service was solemnized at 6 o'clock by the Rev. Bernard Nelson.

Empire frocks of deep red velvet trimmed in white fur were worn by Mrs. John Ragland, Grand Island, the matron of honor, and Miss Cheryl Allen, who was her sister's maid of honor. Their velvet pillbox caps were veiled with red illusion, and each carried a single, long-stemmed white rose.

Srving Mr. Novacek as best man was Richard Draper of Lincoln, and the groomsman was Daniel Novacek, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Richard McDermott, Grand Island, and David Townley, Kearney.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk velvet. The high-waisted bodice was designed with a crescent neckline and long bell sleeves, edged in marabou, and the marabou bordered the detachable train, which complemented the slim skirt. A cap of white feathers and marabou held her bouffant illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white and deep red roses.

Mr. Novacek and his bride will reside in Lincoln, at 2522 Sumner. Mrs. Novacek has attended Grand Island Beauty School, and the bridegroom, a veteran of three years service with the Navy, is a student at the Lincoln Barber School.

The marriage of Miss Judith Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, to Dr. Ali E. Salem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sayed E. Salem of Alexandria, Egypt, was solemnized at an 11 o'clock morning service on Thursday, Jan. 16, at Cairo, Egypt.

The bride's gown of white crepe was fashioned in the skimmer silhouette. White lace patterned the Empire basque, which was designed with a crescent neckline and elbow sleeves, and the lace formed a back panel extending to the hem of the gown. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a cap of tulle petals, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Dr. and Mrs. Salem will reside in Alexandria, Egypt, where the bridegroom is a professor of chemistry at the University of Alexandria. A graduate of the University of Cairo, he received his Ph.D. degree from Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan. Mrs. Salem is a graduate of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing.

Attendants Named

Miss Verla Lee Heidtbrink, whose marriage to Clinton Thomas will be solemnized on Monday evening, March 3, is announcing the members of the bridal entourage this morning. For the wedding, which will take place at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Malcolm, Miss Heidtbrink has chosen her sister, Miss Denise Heidtbrink, as her honor attendant. Her bridesmatrons will be Mrs. James Schroeder, Denton, Mrs. Lowell Kilzer, Millard, and Mrs. Ronald Piening, and the flower girl will be Miss Anne Hoffman, Malcolm.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Evon Gerdes and Miss Lavon Gerdes.

Stan Thomas of Milford, will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Larry Heidtbrink, Malcolm; Roger Thomas, Pleasant Dale; James Schroeder, Denton; and Ron Piening. The groomsmen will be Byron Becker, Marion, Iowa; Bernard Becker, Fairbury; and Myron Piening; and carrying the rings will be Doug Thomas, Milford.

Town Talk

We'll be the first to admit that Thursday, Feb. 20, wasn't the prettiest day we ever have seen, but actually it was an unusually nice day in another respect —It was the birthday anniversary of one of our favorite great ladies — Mrs. W. H. Ferguson who was 101 years old yesterday. A belated birthday greeting goes from us to her.

• • •

It does seem that the weatherman could have had nicer weather for Mrs. Ferguson's birthday, but maybe we should be grateful that it was no worse. We've been hearing rumors about the worst storm of the season which, allegedly, will hit us about April 1. And the instigator of all of the rumors is the Farmer's Almanac which we have just crossed off our reading list.

And now for a cheerier note — such as a dinner-dance.

The party we have in mind has been planned by the members of the University of Nebraska Faculty Dancing Club, and it is to be held on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln. "Celebrating the Centennial" is the theme which has been chosen by the arrangements committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lucas, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Hibbs and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinrichs.

Guest couples will include Mr. and Mrs. James Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. John Furrer, Mr. and Mrs. James Looker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Seltzer.

• • •

Back in town on Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather, Jr., and it would be fun to tell you that they returned from a Caribbean cruise — or a trip to Hawaii or some other exotic spot — but we can't. Mr. and Mrs. Cather were in Chicago where business was mixed with a bit of pleasure.

Abby

DEAR ABBY: My son is 12, and in the sixth grade. About two months ago he came home from school and announced that he HAD to stay up until eleven o'clock to watch a movie his teacher wanted the whole class to see. It dealt with some period of history they were studying. His usual bedtime is 9 P.M. but I decided that once wouldn't hurt, so I let him. Well, a week later it happened again, so I said, "No, I'll watch the movie and tell you about it!" I spent two hours watching a movie that even I didn't understand.

This has happened six times already, and I am sick and tired of that teacher telling my child how late he can stay up. I'd go and talk to the teacher but my son would rather I didn't. Should I anyway? Or should I ignore the whole thing and continue doing my son's "homework?"

IRATE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Have a talk with the teacher. An occasional late TV "assignment" is permissible, but I think she's overdoing it.

Spring And Hats Are Synonymous

BY LISA HAMMEL
(c) New York Times Service

New York — Nowadays, when hats seem to have gone the way of the mastadon, it takes something special for a milliner to remain successful.

Adolfo, an eternal romantic in an era of hard edges, found the formula several years ago: diversification.

This week, the ebullient Cuban presented his fourth boutique collection for Saks Fifth Avanue — a frothy and highly personal melange of hattings and some fashions.

The show opened with a number of variations on the Pierrot suit: silk crepe pants with tunic tops that had ruffs at the neck and cuffs.

Adolfo created his first Pierrot outfits last fall for Mrs. Wyatt Cooper (Gloria Vanderbilt), who had asked him to adapt the ruff into something wearable for the 20th Century. And Mrs. Cooper was there — deep in a black organza ruff — to watch the parade of fashions that evolved from that request.

The suits, all in black and white, included one with an over-net arrangement of black coin dots and another in geometric print. One of the white tunic tops had a whimsical touch: the big round Pierrot buttons that go down the front were printed on the fabric.

The Pierrot outfits are $265. The neck ruffs are $90, a set of cuff ruffs $50.

The slubbed silk overalls that came next were rather Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm. They were shown with silk skirts and matching garden hats and parasols.

Flowers or polka dots were printed on the overalls, hats and sunshades, while the shirts were in contrasting solid colors. Overalls are priced at $160; the shirts at $90.

As for hats as hats, Adolfo played with some of his standard ideas: the Panama, of course; the deep-brimmed straws, and fantasy-flowered berets and turbans in a light silk, with floaty matching chiffon scarves, which the models had knotted at one side of the neck, letting the rest drift down over the opposite shoulder.

And, because the hattings were meant for late spring and summer, there was floral opulence in the form of shades-of-the-forties snoods: open wire arrangements crowded with flowers of the field (fake, of course).

Some of the snoods gathered in all the hair at the back (in the manner of Ann Sheridan — remember?), while others were perched at the back of the head like the May queen's crown. The snoods are $110.

Adolfo's hats and fashions are available in his boutique at Saks as well as in the store's Park Avenue room and millinery salon.

K-State Upset Biggest

Question — What was the biggest upset of last fall's college football season?

According to Beano Cook, the ABC-TV figure filbert who compiles statistics on such things as upsets, it happened in Lincoln, Neb., on Nov. 9 when Kansas State bopped the Huskers, 12-0.

And those people who thought the Big Eight was a topsy-turvy league last fall are backed by Beano's figuring that shows the Big ..ight and the Atlantic Coast as the only major conferences with more upsets in 1968 than in 1967.

In the seven major conferences upsets were down by 25% with only 35 upsets occurring in the Big Eight, Big Ten, ACC, Pacific Eight, Southeastern, Southwest and Ivy League.

While the Big Eight and the ACC led in upsets with seven each, the Southeastern Conference and the Pacific Eight were the most form-following with only three each.

For the three years that Beano has been keeping such statistics, the SEC has had only 10 upsets while the Southwest is the three-year leader with 23.

Kansas Big Shocker

Beano claims his figures disprove the idea that football is becoming more and more unpredictable.

"With all the comments and articles concerning so many upsets in college football, these figures seem to disprove that notion," Beano claims. "For years, writers have claimed that the Ivy League produced so many more upsets than any other league but in this three-year period, there were only 16 upsets.

"If one studies the pre-season selections, the only true shocker was Kansas. Ironically, the Jayhawks didn't pull one of the seven upsets in the Big Eight."

Three of those seven upsets involved Nebraska with the Husker losses to Kansas State and Missouri along with the win over Colorado being considered upsets.

Upsets By Leagues

The upsets, listed by leagues:

Ivy League (5): Penn over Cornell; Penn over Princeton; Penn over Dartmouth; Princeton over Dartmouth; Columbia over Cornell.

ACC (7): Duke over South Carolina; Duke over Wake Forest; South Carolina over Virginia; South Carolina over Wake Forest; South Carolina over Clemson; North Carolina over Duke; Clemson over North Carolina State.

Southeast (3) Mississippi over LSU: Auburn over Tennessee; Vanderbilt over Kentucky.

Big Ten (5): Iowa over Minnesota; Indiana over Michigan State; Michigan over Michigan State; Minnesota over Purdie; Minnesota over Michigan State.

Big 8 (7): Oklahoma over Kansas; Colorado over Oklahoma; Iowa State over Kansas State; Kansas State over Nebraska; Missouri over Nebraska; Nebraska over Colorado; Oklahoma State over Colorado.

Southwest (5): Texas Tech over Texas; Texas Tech over Texas A&M; SMU over Texas Tech; Baylor over Texas A&M; Baylor over Texas Tech.

LINK, KNIGHT TANKERS TIE

MEET RECORD . . . Lincoln High's Spencer Luedke churns his way to a meet mark of 1:50.6 in the 200-yard freestyle.

Foul Hits LHS In Last Event

. . . EAST MERMEN CLOSE

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Defending champion Lincoln High, assured another city swimming title prior to the final event, even with a last place finish, instead was tied for the crown by Southeast when its 400-yard freestyle relay team was disqualified.

The Links appeared to have finished third in the event, but a judge's decision ruled that the fourth member of the Lincoln High relay quartet had left the starting blocks before the third man touched the end of the pool.

Instead of scoring the eight points for third (or even the six awarded for a last place finish) the Links were pointless in the event. Southeast, second behind East in the relay, pulled up to a final 81-81 tie. East was third with 74.5 points, while Northeast tallied 31.5 points in the splash-spectacular held at the East High pool Thursday night.

The meet ended in some confusion amid electrified feelings because of the crucial ruling, rubbing some of the luster off the thrilling affair in which three new records were set.

Ace Lincoln High freestyler Spencer Luedke bested two of the marks. He lowered his own one-year-old record in the 200-yard event from 1:53.4 to 1:50.6, then came back to break the 100-yard standard set by Northeast's Jim Pickerel last year with a :50.3 timing.

Southeast's Greg Shaw toppled former Knight Tom Tidball's three-year-old 100-yard butterfly record twice in two days. He churned the distance in :56.5 in the Wednesday preliminaries to establish the time for the record books. In the Thursday finals he was again under the old mark while winning the event in :56.8.

Lincoln High's Mark Bryan also broke the old record both days while finishing second to Shaw. Bryan had a :57.1 clocking each time.

Shaw, who also won the 50-yard freestyle event, joined Luedke and Southeast's Kelly Cook as the meet's only double winners.

Cook captured the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard backstroke events.

The record breaking was considerably under last year when seven new marks were established. Luedke now owns three of the existing records. His 400-yard freestyle time, set last season stood up as the new one. Each competitor is limited to two events in any one meet.

Lincoln High appeared to have salted away the title on the ninth event of the 11-event program. In the 400-yard freestyle the Links' Paul Eldridge was the winner, with Bryan second, and teammate Paul Martin fourth. The trio gave Lincoln High 15 points in the one event and what appeared to be a safe lead.

Then came the final relay and the disqualification which gives the Capital City co-champions for 1969.

Canadiens Edge Leafs, Move Into First Place

Montreal (AP) — Dick Duff scored the tie-breaking goal on a second period power play and the Montreal Canadiens edged the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 Thursday night for a two-point lead in the National Hockey League's East Division title race.

The victory broke a deadlock between the Canadiens and idle Boston Bruins for the East Division lead.

Cipriano Rejects Cage Job Offered By Big Ten School

University of Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano Thursday indicated he has rejected overtures to become basketball coach at Northwestern University.

Cipriano had been considered the No. 1 candidate for the post vacated recently by Larry Glass because of his long association with Northwestern athletic director Tippy Dye, who hired Joe when he was serving in a similar post at Nebraska.

"I was honored to have the opportunity to visit with Tippy about a fine school like Northwestern, and the idea of working with my former coach and close friend was attractive financially and from the standpoint of challenge," said Cipriano.

"However, my family and I are very happy in Lincoln and with our affiliation with the University of Nebraska. I have enjoyed a fine relationship with athletic director Bob Devaney and look forward to working with him in the future.

"While we appreciate Northwestern's interest, we are happy at Nebraska and want to expend all our time toward the Cornhusker program," he added.

"Joe has done an outstanding jog with our basketball program," Devaney said. "We are very pleased he has decided to stay with us and we are looking forward to a fine future for our basketball teams."

Cipriano is currently in his sixth season at Nebraska. Dye brought his former pupil to Nebraska after Cipriano had compiled a 43-35 record in three years at Idaho.

In 1966 Cipriano's club ended a 16-year string of losing seasons with a 20-5 record, best in 45 years at Nebraska. His NU record now stands at 77-69.

Stage Set For Dodge-Ford Battle In Daytona Classic

Daytona Beach, Fla. (AP) — David Pearson and Bobby Isaac roared to victory in a pair of 125-mile qualifying races Thursday and the stage was set for a mighty battle between Ford and Dodge in Sunday's Daytona 500, the world's richest stock car classic.

Pearson, 34-year-old NASCAR champion, turned the first 190 mile an hour lap in competition in the history of the Daytona International Speedway as he led a Ford victory parade in the first race.

Isaac grabbed the lead in the late stages of the second event and sped home first in a Dodge Charger.

Although the 190 m.p.h. speed barrier was cracked, average speeds were well below the track's 125-mile record of 188.539 because the races were slowed by yellow caution flags.

Pearson averaged 152.181 m.p.h. as he took the No. 3 pole position for Sunday's $206,000-mile main event of Daytona Speed Weeks.

Isaac, who had already captured the No. 2 pole with a qualifying speed of 188.726, won his race at 151.668. Charlie Glotzbach, who come in second behind Isaac in a bumper-to-bumper feud with Richard Petty, took the No. 4 pole.

Buddy Baker, who dropped out of the first race after only two laps, will be on the pole because he was the fastest qualifier opening day.

Baker took a Dodge Charger quickly to the front of the pack in the opening race, but after only two laps drove it behind the pit wall.

The car had developed a slight vibration. Baker said he could have kept going, but his crew decided to save the Dodge for the big one rather than take a gamble.

As Baker retired, Pete Hamilton, NASCAR's 1968 Rookie of the Year, rocketed ahead in another Charger and set a blazing pace that came close to 190 m.p.h. on the fourth lap.

But the average speed dropped abruptly to 134 m.p.h. when a blown engine in a Ford driven by Henley Gray of Rome, Ga., spilled oil in the track and brought the caution flag out for 10 laps.

Then Hamilton pitted for 79 seconds for tire changes and Pearson blazed into the lead, followed by Cale Yarborough. On the 20th lap, Pearson was clocked at 190.274.

Ten miles farther down the road, Yarborough ran down the flying Pearson as their torrid duel raged the average speed climbed steadily.

But the back window in a Ford driven by Lee Roy Yarborough shattered, and as he veered off the high-banked west turn with tires smoking, the yellow flags went up again for five laps.

Pearson hung just off Yarborough's rear bumper for 20 furious laps and then, with seven laps to go, surged ahead on the back stretch to stay.

Yarborough was second, Donnie Allison third and A. J Foyt fourth.

Isaac, Bobby Allison in a Dodge, Richard Petty in a Ford and Paul Goldsmith in another Dodge locked up in an early four-way fight in the second race, with the lead changing hands frequently.

On the 29th lap, Petty scraped the east wall but after a brief pit stop for inspection thundered back into the fray.

Three laps later, Allison blew his engine, scraped the west wall and skidded sideways into the infield.

Glotzbach spurted into the lead for 16 miles until Isaac wrested it back eight laps from home. Petty brushed the wall a second time on the 41st lap but still hung in to give Glotzbach a fierce run for second place. Swede Savage was fourth in a Mercury.

8 Defending Titles In State Mat Meet

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Eight defending champions and 37 grapplers in all who scored points in last winter's state high school wrestling tournament return for another chance when the 1969 championships open at the Coliseum on the University of Nebraska campus Friday afternoon.

Class C leads the list with 14 returnees and three champions. Class B has an equal number of first place finishers back and 13 in all, while Class A has the most wide open opportunity for the newcomer. Just two big school titleholders return and but 10 who managed to place amoag the top four in 1968.

Omaha Central's Tony Ross leads the Class A blue ribbon winners. He was fourth in the 145-pound class as a sophomore and captured the 165-pound crown last year. As a senior he returns again as a 175-pounder, having won that weight division in his district tourney.

The other big school defender is Joe Ortiz of Boys Town, the 113-pound champ last year. Ortiz is up one division, having won the 138-pound title in his district.

Two Capital City wrestlers who scored a year ago are back on the scene. Lincoln High's Tom Simpson, fourth at 154 last year, will be back at the same weight after winning his district title.

East's John Lowe, fourth at 95 pounds in '68, will also be at that same weight this weekend in an attempt to move even higher among the finishers.

Scottsbluff is the defending Class A champion and this year the Bearcats return with a qualifier in all but one of the 12 weight divisions. Their biggest challenge for another team title is expected to come from Bellevue, which also brings 11 squad members to the event.

Defending Class B champion Lexington returns with last year's 112-pound winner Gary Appleton. The other two are Gothenburg's Dan Mowrey, back to defend his 95-pound title and Jack Hobbie of Nebraska City who captured the heavyweight crown last winter.

The defending Class C champs, Bayard, also has a returning winner. Jim Anest, who won at 95 pounds last time, is back as a 103-pounder. Harrisburg's Jim Gifford and Rushville's Gary Sones are the other returning titleholders.

Harrisburg, which finished a close second to Bayard in the final count last winter, leads the list with three returning point getters. Jim's brother Bob Gifford is back again, along with Bob Pile.

The 1968 state meet scorers returning, with last year's finish and weight class, previous finishes and weight class:

Chisox Cancel Series With Mexico City Reds

. . . PLAYER BOYCOTT COST $30,000

By Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox's four-game exhibition series in Mexico City became the first casualty of the player boycott of spring training Thursday at a cost of about $30,000.

Ed Short, vice president of the White Sox, advised the Mexicans that it would be impossible for the club to appear March 2-5 for the games with the Mexico City Reds and the Mexico City Tigers "due to continuing refusal of major league players to sign contracts and report to spring training . . ."

The White Sox, however, welcomed their first fulltime holdover from last season when Cisco Carlos, a pitcher who had a 4-14 record, signed a contract and reported. The batterymen are due to be joined by the full squad Friday at Sarasota, Fla.

Pat Jarvis, Atlanta's top winning pitcher in 1968, was the only full fledged regular among the 15 batterymen at the Braves' camp in West Palm Beach, Fla.

"Blue Moon" Odom and Ed Sprague, both pitchers, were among the 11 batterymen at the camp of the Oakland A's in Mesa, Ariz.

Pittsburgh opened camp at Bradenton, Fla., with 27 on hand, including Gene Alley, the regular shortstop, and Jerry May, the No. 1 catcher.

Clay Carroll, a pitcher who won seven games in 1968, reported to the Cincinnati Reds at Tampa, Fla. and signed his contract although the Reds do not open officially until Friday.

Montreal had no additions to its 11-man squad at the West Palm Beach, Fla. camp it shares with Atlanta. Among the veterans on the Montreal scene were Bob Bailey, John Bateman and Ron Brand.

The Chicago Cubs, washed out of their first workout at Scottsdale, Ariz., had 18 players in uniform, including 13 on the big league roster. Ron Santo, third baseman; Glen Beckert, second baseman; and Ernie Banks, first baseman, indicated they would report by March 1, the official reporting date. Banks, who signed a two-year contract last year, was in camp and expected to suit up with the full squad Monday.

The New York Mets had 16 on hand in St. Petersburg, Fla. including Jerry Grote, the All-Star catcher and Nolan Ryan, Cal Koonce, Danny Frisella, Bob Hendley and Jim McAndrew of the pitching staff. The only regular pitchers absent were Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman, Al Jackson and Ron Taylor.

The San Diego Padres apparently have circumvented a strike threatened by the Major League Baseball Players' Association, a source close to the team's management said Thursday.

Twenty-seven of the 35 players in the National League expansion team reportedly have signed contracts or have verbally agreed to terms.

Twenty-three of the players were said to have indicated they'll be on hand when spring training opens Saturday at Yuma, Ariz.

The Kansas City Royals said 28 players of their major league expansion baseball club arrived in camp Thursday afternoon.

By the time practice begins on Friday morning about 35 will have signed contracts, the Royals management said. Sixteen of those who had arrived have previous major league experience.

—OPENER MARCH 21—

Fonner Plagued By Snowstorms

Grand Island — Activities are picking up at Fonner Park with the opening of the 1969 racing season just a month away.

An overabundance of snow has given general manager Al Swihart extra problems in preparing for the March 21 opening of the Nebraska racing season.

The normal procedure is to keep the track free of snow all winter, but a storm that dumped 25 inches of snow on Grand Island made this impossible. The melting of this snow brought on by the action of the 75 tons of salt put on the track last fall to keep it from freezing left loose, sloppy mud, causing the snow removal equipment to mire down.

The problem of the bad track was intensified with the arrival of horsemen Feb. 1. Swihart came up with the right answer to a tough problem when he called in contractors with heavy equipment to sweep the sloppy mud to the outside of the track.

This left an almost dry footing that was packed by the heavy equipment. The track was then put in good condition with another large piece of equipment which put a uniform cushion on the oval.

Last week's 15-inch snowstorm presented new problems, but they were quickly taken care of by snow removal equipment.

Some of the local horsemen have been hampered in their training activities and are certain to be behind their planned schedules for putting their horses in condition for the coming season.

However, mild winter weather in western Nebraska and Colorado and the large number of horses taken from this area to train in Oklahoma and Kansas will assure many horses ready to run on opening day.

Spartans To Face Big Tests

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Coach Paul Forch's East High basketball team, top ten rated earlier in the year after capturing six of its first eight games of the season, faces an uphill struggle to maintain a winning record with two rugged intra-city tussles on the slate this weekend.

The Spartans, victims of defeat in three of their last four outings and now sporting a 7-5 overall record, face Lincoln High and Northeast on consecutive nights at Pershing Auditorium.

They are the only two prep games on the local schedule. In other action, Southeast travels to Kearney for a Friday night encounter, while Pius X plays its lone weekend game at Omaha Ryan the same night.

East High will be attempting to revenge earlier defeats in both local battles. Lincoln High handed the Spartans their first setback the second week of the campaign, 51-45.

Coach Alden Johnson's Lincoln High club is on a four-game winning spurt. Earlier the Links dropped eight straight before starting this comeback effort.

The defending state champion Northeast quintet, now riding the crest of a 25-game winning streak stretching over the past two years, including 14 in a row this season, started East's recent downhill slide.

Northeast administered a 72-44 whipping which was followed by losses to both Columbus and Southeast, sandwiched around a lone four-point win over Fremont.

"We got off to a poor start against Lincoln High and Northeast the first time around," Forch admitted. "We just haven't been getting a good offensive thrust in the first quarter."

The East coach feels that "if we can get started right, then we'll have a chance to control the game with our style of play."

One more week of regular season action will be followed by the District A-1 tournament at Pershing Auditorium March 5-8. The four Capital City Class A teams will be entered with the winner advancing to the state meet the following week.

Kearney was third with one individual champion and 48 points.

Peru State and Hastings were not entered.

Big Eight Stats Misleading But Only Standings Matte

Kansas City (AP) — Statistically, Colorado isn't even in the first division in the Big Eight basketball race, yet the Buffaloes lead the conference with an 8-2 record.

The Buffs are tied for sixth in field goal shooting, fifth in free throw shooting and fifth in rebounding. Additionally, they have only the third best mark when it comes to margin of victory.

How are they doing it? They are winning the close games, that's how. Four of the Buffaloes' eight Big Eight victories have come by a total of eight points, including two one-point decisions.

The Buffs have hit only 43 per cent of their field shots, compared with Missouri's league-leading 47.2 per cent. They have sunk 67.7 per cent of their free throws, against Iowa State's top mark of 72.4 per cent. And Colorado has gotten only 49.6 per cent of the rebounds in its games, while Kansas has corralled 55.6 per cent.

Colorado also has outscored its opponents an average of 6.1 points a game. Kansas State has a 6.6-point average margin of victory and Kansas a 6.2 average.

Individually, however, Colorado boasts the best 1-2 scoring punch in the Big Eight. Cliff Meely leads the conference scoring with a 24 point average and Gordon Tope is seventh at 16 for a total of 41 points between them. Iowa State has a combination that's close — Bill Cain at 24.4 and Aaron Jenkins at 16.2 for a total of 40.6.

Cain and Meely also are 1-2 in rebounding, with Cain on top at 14.2 per game and Meely second at 14.

Behind the two scoring leaders come Kansas' Dave Robisch at 19.4, Missouri's Don Tomlinson at 18.2 a Kansas State's Jerry Vena at 16.6.

Cain scored 70 points in t overtime games last weeke to move within a whisker overtaking Meely, who h led the Big Eight's individu scoring race virtually season.

Missouri's Doug Johns and Pete Helmbock are fi and second in field go shooting with 58.5 per ce and 56.5 per cent. Tope is t top free throw shooter at 8 per cent and Johnson is cond at 84.4 per cent.

Mono Strikes Brooks Again

Nebraska will be without the services of No. 2 scorer and rebounder Jim Brooks as it meets Big Eight pacesetters Kansas and Colorado Saturday and Monday nights.

The 6-8 junior has been sidelined for at least a week and perhaps the remainder of the season with mononucleosis. Brooks had earlier missed several weeks of pre-season workouts because of the ailment.

"I think he's been bothered all season with it and the year really hasn't been a fair test for him," says coach Joe Cipriano.

"We'll really miss Jim at Kansas. His rebounding and shooting against a zone will be hard to replace," says Cipriano.

The big junior college transfer carried an 11.9 scoring average and had collected 138 rebounds in 21 games.

Who-Needs-'Em Attitude Is Just Like Whistling Up A Tunnel

By ARTHUR DALEY

New York — With more belligerence than common sense a few of the baseball top brass reacted petulantly to the possibility of a player boycott of spring training until pension demands were met. They assumed a who-needs-'am attitude that is so obviously ridiculous it's just like whistling up the wind tunnel.

"If we can't use major leaguers," they said, "we'll fill up our rosters with minor leaguers."

And sell this ersatz package to the fans? It's too silly for words. Even at the height of the dispute between owners and players over principle and principal, it was the emptiest of threats. The immortal words of Casey Stengel still hold true. In a rhapsodic moment of exultation at the winning of a World Series, he said it all.

"I couldn't a done it without the players," said ol' Case, magnanimously giving credit where credit is due.

Without trying to distinguish between the rights of the avaricious and plutocratic owners and the rights of the avaricious and plutocratic ball players in their battle of high finance, an observer has to come to one inescapable conclusion. The necessary ingredient to a big league operation is a big league athlete — 600 of them to be exact. Not all may qualify entirely but at least that's the general idea.

A quarter of a century ago, give or take a year, the majors were stripped of talent by World War II. Virtually every name star in the sport was in the services and only pseudo big leaguers kept the game or too old. Or they were 4-F with physical disabilities. The St. Louis Browns even had a one-armed outfielder named Pete Gray. He batted .218 one handed and he was deft enough in the field, cleverly shucking his glove to make throws.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had a 16-year old shortstop named Tommy Brown, nicknamed Buckshot. Whenever a ball was batted in his direction, all the fans behind first base instinctively ducked behind their seats because Tommy's throw was odds-on to land in that general area.

The Cincinnati Reds produced a 14-year old left-handed pitcher, Joe Nuxhall, who was bombed in his debut. However, the left-handed schoolboy eventually learned his trade and became a valuable functionary in his more mature years.

Yet the big leagues did not have to apologize for the inferior ball players on their payrolls because there was a war on and understanding fans accepted the situation for what it was. If there were no complaints, there was a deep yearning for the day when "the real ball players" would return. Hope started to surge midway through the early birds into the armed forces were the early birds out.

Bobby Feller had a chance to limber up his arm after four years of Navy inactivity in time to set a new strikeout record the next season. Hank Greenberg left the China-India-Burma Theater in time to win a pennant for the Detroit Tigers with a homer in the final game. Others filtered back in ever increasing numbers.

By spring training of 1946 the real big leaguers, the pros, were joyously flexing their muscles — Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter, Tommy Henrich, Johnny Mize and — but why bother to recite the roll? All the stars were back and baseball took a tremendous upward leap.

Not until then, however, did the average fan realize what an ersatz product had been foisted on him during the interim. It had happened gradually from Pearl Harbor on and not until 1944 was the bottom of the barrel being scraped. The whole deal was dictated by expedience. That's why it was accepted. Furthermore it proved an old Branch Ricky theory: "goodness is relative." It took the genuine article to expose the ersatz nature of the previous product.

Those few owners who proclaim that they can fill their ranks with minor leaguers have to be nuts. Turnstiles would rust because the big leagues no longer have the built-in fans they once took for granted. They have a selling problem to do and much too few stars to sell. Costs for the owners have risen outrageously. Salaries for the players also have risen outrageously.

When a shortstop with a .227 batting average, Dal Maxvill of the Cardinals, can command a $37,000 salary, oldtimers sadly shake their heads at the thought that Lou Gehrig never received that much. Other Cardinals earned more last season than Babe Ruth in his palmiest days and there was only one Babe.

The owners need the players and the players need the owners. Neither group is underprivileged and the common man hardly feels a wave of sympathy for athletes whose average salary is $26,000 per annum. The longer they extend their battles of greed the more baseball is hurt. And the sport is not quite that healthy to start with, especially when it starts to resemble a goose that lays golden eggs.

Wisconsin AD Dies After Home Accident

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Ivan B. "Ivy" Williamson, 58, director of athletics at the university of Wisconsin for 13 years, died Wednesday night after falling in his home.

Williamson was head football coach several years before becoming athletic director, a post he held until last month.

Ogallala (AP) — Bids will be opened March 3 for a $130,000 recreational development at Nebraska's biggest water playground, western Nebraska's gigantic Lake McConaughy, the State Game Commission has announced.

UNO Competing For Conference Grappling Crown

Greeley, Colo. (UPI) — Nine members of the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference will compete at Colorado State College this weekend for the league's first wrestling title.

Host Colorado State College, the number one ranking team in the NCAA College Division, is favored to win the crown.

Other teams competing in the Friday and Saturday meet will be Fort Hays State, Nebraska-Omaha, Kansas State Teachers, Colorado Mines, Adams State, Fort Lewis, Western State and Southern Utah.

Nebraska-Omaha has a 13-0 dual meet record this year and is second-ranked in the NAIA. Adams State is rated third in the NAIA and along with Nebraska-Omaha could give Colorado State College a rough fight for the title.

Barber Shoots Seven-Under-Par 65 To Lead Tucson Golf Meet

Tucson, Ariz. (AP) — Texan Miller Barber fired an eagle and five birdies for a seven-under-par-65 and the first round lead Thursday in the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

The 37-year-old Barber finished in a second-place tie in the Phoenix Open last Sunday when he shot a final-round 64.

He continued his par-busting after switching to the Tucson National Golf Club course and holds a two-stroke lead over U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino and Dale Douglass.

Trevino, from El Paso, Tex., shot a 34-33 for his 67 while Douglass, of Denver, had a 36-31.

"This year has been my best start by far," commented Barber, who has been on the tour 10 years and owns a course at Sherman, Tex. He shot a 32-33 for the opening round, starting the back nine first.

On the 13th hole he sank a five-foot birdie putt. At the 530-yard 18th, he hit the green with a number 3 wood on his second shot and sank an 18-foot putt for his eagle.

Birdies on the front nine came with putts of 12 feet and the third hole, 18 at the fourth, 10 at the seventh and three at the eighth.

Although his start might have been slower in 1968, Barber collected $105,000 in winnings and captured the Byron Nelson tournament championship at Dallas.

Deadlocked at 68 on a day which changed from a sunny morning to rains and colder weather in the afternoon, were George Archer, Rod Funseth, Ron Cerrudo and Tucson amateur Dr. Ed Updegraff, former Western Amateur champion and member of the Walker Cup team.

Archer carded a double bogie on the first hole he played, the 10th yet still carded a 33-35.

Gene Littler, winner of the Phoenix Open and leading money winner of 1969 so far, was at 74 while defending champion George Knudson shot a 72.

The Tucson National extends 7,305 yards and plays to a 36-36—72.

Trevino sank a 30-foot putt on the 18th green for his 67.

Bassett Jumper Junior Olympics National Winner

New York (UPI) — Led by Bill Williams, a Bassett, Neb., jumper, Midwestern Association athletes annexed four individual championships in the 21st annual nationwide competition of the Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympics in track and field in 1968.

Williams captured national intermediate division honors in the long jump at 21-9½ and triple jump at 45-6½, according to the final tabulations released Thursday.

Two other Nebraskans to capture national laurels were Harry Bartling, of Bridgeport, who set an intermediate record in annexing the 440-yard test at 50.3 seconds, and Jim Hawkins, Omaha North High School, who won the senior 880 in 1:57.4. Bartling also took fourth in the 220.

Each participating AAU district association stages its own Junior Olympics in track, with placings determined on a time basis nationwide.

Volkswagen announces automatic. Better late than never.

The Volkswagen Squareback and the Volkswagen Fastback are now available with a fully automatic transmission.

So now you can drive a Volkswagen and not even know you're driving a Volkswagen.

Except for a few reminders.

Like the 25 miles you get to a gallon of regular gas. The oil you still take by the pint. And the time and money you don't spend on anti-freeze.

Of course, the new automatic is strictly optional. Just like on most other cars.

But we've got something no other car offers even as an option. Electronic fuel injection.

And it's as standard as the electric clock, electric rear window defroster, 49-position front seats, front disc brakes, wall-to-wall carpeting, and headrests.

All of which is enough to make you forget it's a Volkswagen all over again.

ORDINANCE NO. 9698

AN ORDINANCE amending Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code by adding a new chapter to be numbered Chapter 5.68 relating to the regulation of fire and other altered goods sales, going-out-of-business sales, and removal of business sales, as herein prescribed.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.010 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.010. DEFINITIONS. For the purposes of this chapter the following terms, phrases, words, and their derivations shall have the meaning given herein. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural number include the singular number, and words in the singular number include the plural number. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory.

(1) "City" is the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

(2) "Bureau of Licenses and Permits" is the Bureau of Licenses and Permits of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, or the City Clerk of said City.

(3) "Fire and other altered goods sale" is a sale held out in such a manner as to reasonably cause the public to believe that the sale will offer goods damaged or altered by fire, smoke, water or other means.

(4) "Going-out-of-business sale" is a sale held out in such a manner as to reasonably cause the public to believe that upon the disposal of the stock of goods on hand the business will cease and be discontinued, including but not limited to the following sales: Adjuster's; Adjustment; Alteration; Assignee's; Bankrupt; Benefit of Administrator's; Benefit of Creditors'; Benefit of Trustees; Building Coming Down; Closing; Creditor's Committee; Creditor's; End; Executor's; Final Days; Forced Out; Forced Out of Business; Insolvents'; Last Days; Lease Expires; Liquidation; Loss of Lease; Mortgage Sale; Receiver's; Trustee's; Quitting Business.

(5) "Goods" is meant to include any goods, wares, merchandise or other property capable of being the object of a sale regulated hereunder.

(6) "Person" is any person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, company or organization of any kind.

(7) "Removal of business sale" is a sale held out in such a manner as to reasonably cause the public to believe that the person conducting the sale will cease and discontinue business at the place of sale upon disposal of the stock of goods on hand and will then move to and resume business at a new location in the City or will then continue business from other existing locations in the City."

Section 2. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.020 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.020. MISLEADING ADVERTISING — LENGTH OF SALE — TERMINATION OF BUSINESS REQUIREMENT. It shall be unlawful for any person owning or having an interest in goods to hold, within the City, a sale of such goods, which sale is advertised or otherwise held out to be a fire and other altered goods sale, a going-out-of-business sale, or a removal of business sale, unless such sale is such fire and other altered goods sale, going-out-of-business sale, or removal of business sale, as advertised or otherwise held out to be.

It shall prima facie be a violation of this section for any person who has advertised or otherwise held out a sale as being a going-out-of-busines sale, or a removal of business sale to continue such sale for more than sixty days after the date of the commencement thereof, or for such person still to be in business at the place of business six months after the commencement of such sale."

Section 3. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.030 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.030. INVENTORY AND INSPECTION FEE. Whether a sale subject to the provisions of this chapter be a fire and other altered goods sale, a going-out-of-business sale, or a removal of business sale, prior to such sale the person owning or having an interest in such goods shall file with the Bureau an inventory, sworn to before a Notary Public as being true to the best of such person's knowledge and belief, setting forth the goods to be offered at such sale and the date such sale is to commence; and in the case of a fire and other altered goods sale where the fire or other such loss has not been suffered by such person, he shall include with the inventory the name and address of his supplier of such goods. In addition to filing such inventory, such person shall also pay to the Bureau an inspection fee of $5.00 which fee is to help defray the City's cost of assuring itself that the goods actually offered for sale are the same as the goods listed on said inventory. It shall prima facie be a violation of this chapter if the goods thus offered at such sale are other than or in addition to the goods listed on said inventory; however, a change or addition, or any combination thereof, to said inventory which does not exceed one per cent of the total inventory shall not be considered to be a violation of this chapter."

Sectin 4. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.040 to read as follows:

Section 5.68.040. ESTABLISHED BUSINESS REQUISITE. It shall prima facie be a violation of this chapter for any person to have a sale which has been advertised or otherwise held out to be a going-out-of-business sale or a removal of business sale if such person has not been in business at the place of business for at least three months prior to the commencement of such sale."

Section 5. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.050 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.050. INTERVAL BETWEEN SALES. It shall prima facie be a violation of this chapter for any person to have more than one going-out-of-business sale or removal of business sale per year within the City unless such other sale is the sale of goods of a business owned by such person at the time such first sale was lawfully in existence under the provisions of this chapter."

Section 6. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.060 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.060. PERSONS EXEMPTED. Persons acting pursuant to an order or process of a court of competent jurisdiction, persons acting in accordance with their powers and duties as public officials, and auctioneers not owning nor having an interest in goods other than for their expected commission for selling the same, shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter."

Section 7. That Title 5 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be amended by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5.68.070 to read as follows:

"Section 5.68.070. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision, or part or portion of any section, clause or provision of this chapter, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or application of any other section, clause, provisions or part or portion of this chapter."

Section 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

AN ORDINANCE amending Sections 17.16.030 and 17.32.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code and amending Chapter 17.16 of the Lincoln Municipal Code by adding a new section to be numbered Section 17.16.035 relating to the changing of the rates to be charged for water service both within and without the corporate limits of the City, and repealing Sections 17.16.030 and 17.32.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 17.16.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"17.16.030. Water Rates to Customers Outside the City Limits. The following water rates shall be charged to water customers outside the city limits for water furnished them by the water department of the city.

All additional charges, penalties, water charges and service charges shall be the same as those fixed for service to premises located within the corporate limits. The amounts charged for the sale of water, together with all other charges and penalties, shall be and are hereby declared to be a lien upon the property to which such service is furnished, from the time the same becomes due until paid.

For the purpose of this title, one cubic foot of water shall be taken as equal to seven and five-tenths gallons.

The water rates herein established shall become effective as to all water meter readings made on and after April 22, 1969.

(A) RESIDENTIAL WATER SERVICE

The following rate schedule shall apply to one- or two-family dwellings and to all apartment houses occupied as the residence of not more than six families, for all domestic uses of water:

40 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 700 cubic feet used per month;

34 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 700 cubic feet used per month;

28 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 1,400 cubic feet used per month;

24 cents per 100 cubic feet for all additional water used per month.

The minimum monthly bill shall be as hereinafter provided.

(B) NONRESIDENTIAL WATER SERVICE

The following rate schedule shall apply to all types of water service not covered by Paragraph A hereof:

40 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 6,700 cubic feet used per month;

34 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 46,600 cubic feet used per month;

28 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 80,000 cubic feet used per month;

24 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 1,333,300 cubic feet used per month;

22 cents per 100 cubic feet for all additional water used per month.

The minimum monthly bill shall be as hereinafter provided.

(C) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL TYPES OF WATER SERVICE

Minimum Monthly Charge. There shall be a minimum charge per month to each customer, which shall be determined by the size of the customer's meter, or meters, and shall be as follows:

Water Meter Size	Minimum Water Use Charge
5/8 inch	$ 2.25
3/4 inch	2.25

3 inch	23.25
4 inch	47.00
6 inch	93.75
8 inch	165.00
10 inch	225.00

Section 2. That Section 17.32.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"17.32.010. Water Rates to Customers Within the City Limits. The following water rates shall be charged to water customers within the city limits for water furnished them by the Water Department of the City of Lincoln, except for fire systems and water sold for construction and other temporary purposes, and the same shall become effective as to all water meter readings made on and after April 22, 1969.

(A) RESIDENTIAL WATER SERVICE

The following rate schedule shall apply to one- or two-family dwellings and to all apartment houses occupied as the residence of not more than six families, for all domestic uses of water:

28 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 700 cubic feet used per month;

22 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 700 cubic feet used per month;

17 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 1,400 cubic feet used per month;

13 cents per 100 cubic feet for all additional water used per month;

The minimum monthly bill shall be as hereinafter provided.

(B) NONRESIDENTIAL WATER SERVICE

The following rate schedule shall apply to all types of water service not covered by Paragraph A hereof:

28 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 6,700 cubic feet used per month;

22 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 46,600 cubic feet used per month;

17 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 80,000 cubic feet used per month;

13 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 1,333,300 cubic feet used per month;

10 cents per 100 cubic feet for all additional water used per month.

The minimum monthly bill shall be as hereinafter provided.

(C) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL TYPES OF WATER SERVICE

MINIMUM MONTHLY CHARGE. There shall be a minimum charge per month to each customer, which shall be determined by the size of the customer's meter, or meters, and shall be as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 9700

AN ORDINANCE amending Sections 17.60.030 and 17.60.130 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, relating to the changing of the rates to be charged for sewer service both within and without the corporate limits of the City, and clarifying certain language therein, and repealing Section 17.60.030 and 17.60.130 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 17.60.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"17.60.030. SEWER USE RATES.

(A) RESIDENTIAL SERVICE

Residential users are defined as one- or two-family dwellings and all apartment houses occupied as the residence of not more than six families. With respect to such residential users who are billed for water on a quarterly basis, the sewer use charge for each quarter shall be in accordance with the preceding billing cycle as determined by the director of public utilities, seventy-five percent of the water bill of a designated winter quarter and each successive three quarters thereafter.

Residential users who are billed monthly shall pay a monthly sewer use charge, as of the May billing each year, equal to seventy-five percent of the average of the three billings for the preceding February, March and April.

In the case of a change of ownership or occupancy of premises served on a residential rate, the use charge shall remain the same until such time as the new customer's actual use can be computed on the basis set forth in preceding paragraphs.

In the case of a change in water rates, the sewer use charge billing to the residential customer shall be based on the cost of water determined by applying the new water rates to the quantity of water used during the quarter hereinabove specified for the respective cycles.

(B) NONRESIDENTIAL SERVICE

Nonresidential users are defined as all other users not covered by Paragraph (A) of this section. Nonresidential users shall pay a sewer use charge equal to seventy-five percent of the amount of each monthly or quarterly water bill, as the case may be. Such users shall be given credit, at the same rate, for water not discharged into the sanitary sewers, provided such water is separately metered with the approval of the Lincoln sanitary sewer system and at the Customer's expense.

(C) MINIMUM CHARGE

On all sewer use billings based upon water meter readings made on and after April 22, 1969, there shall be a minimum charge per month to each user which shall be determined by the size of the customer's water meter, or meters, as follows, to-wit:

Water Meter Size	Minimum Sewer Use Charge
5/8 inch	$ 1.13
3/4 inch	1.13
1 inch	1.13
1½ inch	2.25
2 inch	4.68
3 inch	11.62
4 inch	23.44
6 inch	46.87
8 inch	82.50
10 inch	112.50

Section 2. That Section 17.60.130 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"17.60.130. BILLINGS TO COMMENCE. The sewer use charges imposed by this ordinance shall be billed with all billings based upon water meter readings made on and after April 22, 1969."

Section 3. That Sections 17.60.030 and 17.60.130 of the Lincoln Municipal Code and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and they are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

ORDINANCE NO. 9701

AN ORDINANCE amending Sections 14.36.020, 14.36.030, 14.36.040, 14.36.050, 14.36.070, 14.36.080 and 14.36.090, of the Lincoln Municipal Code relating to the regulation of moving any house, building or structure; providing for the licensing of persons engaged in the occupation of housemoving, providing for the issuance of permits and the collection of fees therefore; providing a penalty for the violation hereof; and repealing Sections 14.36.020, 14.36.030, 14.36.040, 14.36.050, 14.36.070, 14.36.080 and 14.36.090 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 14.36.020 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.020. APPLICATION FOR LICENSE — LICENSE FEE — BOND. Any person desiring to engage in the business of housemoving in the City of Lincoln, or within three (3) miles thereof, shall file with the Building Official an application for a license therefor in writing on a form furnished for that purpose. Said application shall be accompanied by a bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, duly executed by both said applicant and a corporate surety company authorized by the State to do business in Nebraska, which bond shall be subject to the approval of the City.

The said bond shall be conditioned, among other things, that said applicant: (1) will in all things strictly comply with all the provisions of the ordinances of the City relating to housemoving; (2) will save, indemnify, and keep harmless the City from all liabilities, judgments, costs, and expenses which may in anywise accrue against the City in consequence of the granting of such license, or in consequence of any injury to persons or property resulting directly, or indirectly, from the exercise of the privileges in such license granted; (3) will pay to the City any and all damages which may be sustained to any pavement, curb, gutter, sidewalk, street crosswalk, traffic signal installation, traffic signal, power poles, power lines, bridges, culverts, sewers, or other City property through the conduct of said applicant's housemoving activities; and, (4) will also pay to the owner any and all damages caused in a like manner to any private property.

A fee shall be paid to the Building Official by said applicant for a license as follows:

Ten (10) Dollars for a term of seven (7) days) or,

Twenty (20) Dollars per month for any period between seven (7) days and five (5) months; or,

One Hundred (100) Dollars for a period of one (1) year.

Provided, however, the provisions of this Section requiring a bond may be satisfied by the applicant depositing with the City a policy of public liability and property damage insurance, providing protection to the City and the general public in the amount of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, executed by an insurance company authorized by the State to do business in Nebraska, provided that the following endorsement shall be attached to and become a part of each and every such liability insurance policy:

"HOUSEMOVER'S PUBLIC LIABILITY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE ENDORSEMENT"

"It is understood and agreed by and between the parties that the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, shall be coinsured hereunder, and that the classification of operations as set forth in the policy to which this endorsement is attached shall be construed to include and cover all the operations of the assured in any manner or nature whatsoever incident to and-or connected with the business of housemoving, and that the undersigned insurance company shall (to an extent not exceeding the amount of indemnity or coverage provided for in the policy to which this endorsement is attached) defend, save, keep harmless and indemnify the assured and coinsured and the general public, and shall indemnify the coinsured as against the assured, from all liability, claims, damages, judgments, costs, and expenses of every nature and description caused by or growing out of the moving of any house, building or structure in connection with the business of housemoving on the part of the assured in the use or occupancy of any street, highway, alley, bridge, culvert, or thoroughfare, including the pavement, sidewalks, sewers, water mains and pipes, gas mains, conduits, wires, poles, and appurtenances thereto, in any manner or nature whatsoever while engaged in the business of housemoving.

It is further understood and agreed: (1) that no assignment of interest under the policy to which this endorsement is attached shall be valid unless approved by the City Attorney of the City of Lincoln; (2) that said policy shall be and remain on file in the office of the Building Official of the City of Lincoln; (3) that any cancellation to the policy to which this endorsement is attached shall only be upon ten-days' written notice, served upon the coinsured not less than ten days prior to the effective date of such cancellation, said ten-days' notice to commence to run from the date said notice is actually received and receipted for at the office of the Building Official of the City of Lincoln; (4) that this policy is accepted and approved by the City Attorney of the City of Lincoln upon the express condition on the part of the Company that nothing in the policy to which this endorsement is attached, or in any endorsement already attached, or which may hereafter be attached which is inconsistent with the terms of this endorsement, shall in any manner affect the validity of this endorsement; (5) that this policy shall be a continuing indemnity and that the indemnity shall not be reduced as to any succeeding accident or occurrence by any payment of any claim or by any payment of any previous accident or occurrence; and, (6) that nothing herein contained shall be held to vary, alter, waive, or extend any of the terms and conditions of said policy other than as above stated.

"This endorsement is hereby made a part of Policy No. , issued by of to , but shall not take effect unless countersigned by a duly authorized representative of the Company.

"Countersigned at , this day of , 19 .

Authorized Representative

"The above endorsement is accepted by the assured, as witness his signature.

Signature of Assured."

Section 2. That Section 14.36.030 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.030. SIZE OF BUILDING — PERMIT — SPECIAL PERMIT — OWNER TO GIVE BOND. No building having a greater height than eighteen feet, or a greater width than twenty-four feet shall be moved over or across any street, alley, or public way in the City. The width shall be ascertained by measuring the widest part, at the eaves, of such building. No building shall be moved over or across any street, alley, or public way of the City without a Permit so to do, issued as hereinafter provided, nor shall any Permit be issued to any other person than a licensed housemover. All trucks, wheels or rollers used to move buildings shall be not less than fifteen inches in diameter and have a minimum width of twelve inches. When moving over or across pavements, planks not less than two inches thick and of sufficient width shall be laid on the pavement, and the trucks, wheels or rollers run thereon. In lieu of the foregoing, pneumatic tires may be used, provided the per axle load does not exceed the maximum permitted by the ordinances of the City of Lincoln and the laws of the State of Nebraska governing the use of public roads.

The Building Official is hereby authorized to issue Housemoving Permits upon written application by duly licensed housemovers when the building to be moved is consistent with the provisions of this Chapter. Before such permit shall be issued utilities shall be properly abandoned. Water supply and service pipes must be disconnected and sealed in accordance with Lincoln Water System regulations. House sewers must be disconnected and sealed in accordance with Lincoln Sanitary Sewer System regulations. The application shall contain a description of the building proposed to be moved, its dimensions and construction, its weight when loaded, the number of axles, its present location and the location of the property where the same is to be moved.

A fee for each Housemoving Permit shall be paid to the Building Official as follows:

Twenty-five (25) Dollars for buildings more than fourteen (14) feet in width.

In addition to said permit fee there shall be paid to the Building Official three (3) dollars per day for each day said building shall remain on any public thoroughfare.

The Building Official shall in each permit limit the time for removal of the building and the time to be occupied in moving same. He shall also specify for each Permit the route to be followed in moving said building, and it shall be unlawful for any person to degress therefrom without the written approval of the Building Official.

No Housemoving Permit shall be issued until countersigned and approved by the City Engineer, the City Traffic Engineer, the City Electric System Manager, the Director of Parks and Recreation, the Director of Public Utilities, and the Director of Public Works. There shall also be approval by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company. If the right of way of any Railroad Company is to be crossed, such company must also approve said permit. The licensed housemover shall notify the Building Official of the hour when moving will actually begin.

Provided, however, the Mayor may, upon written application, grant a special permit for the moving of frame houses of greater height and dimensions than specified in this section, when in the opinion of the Mayor the route over which such house may be moved will cause no exceptional hazard to persons or property. Before such permit is granted, the applicant shall file with the Building Official a bond to be approved by the City Attorney, containing all the conditions required of the bond set forth in the preceeding section, which bond shall be executed by the owner of the house or structure to be moved and shall be in an amount not less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, or such greater sum as the City Attorney shall deem necessary.

When in the opinion of the Building Official, inspections should be maintained during the moving of any building for the purpose of protecting paving, trees, wires or other property of the public, he shall appoint some competent person for such duties and the compensation for such services shall be paid by the housemover to whom the Housemoving Permit is issued. The Building Official shall estimate the probable cost of such inspection and the housemover shall deposit such sum with the Building Official before the issuance of the Housemoving Permit."

Section 3. That Section 14.36.040 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.040. PROTECTING WIRES IN STREETS — PAYMENT OF DAMAGES. The City of Lincoln electric system upon request of a licensed housemover, shall arrange the electric system wires to permit the passage of any building being lawfully moved over and across the streets and ways of the City and to replace, repair, and restore any which may have been removed, or damaged. The Lincoln Electric System shall at the time when such work is completed make out a statement of account in triplicate against said licensed housemover and expense or damage incurred or suffered by the City by reason of the removal, repairing or replacing of its wires to permit said removal. One copy of said statement of account shall be given such licensee, one copy given to the Building Official and one copy retained by the Lincoln Electric System. In case of injury or damage to any City property, other than electric light or other wires, the Director of Public Works shall make an estimate in triplicate of the amount of such injury or damage, one copy of which estimate he shall deliver to the licensee causing such damage, one copy to the Building Official and one copy he shall retain. It is hereby made the duty of the licensee to pay the amount of said accounts to the Building Official within five (5) days after date of billing and in case of his failure so to do, the Building Official shall refer same to the City Attorney for collection. The Building Official shall not issue any further permits to said licensee so long as such account remains unpaid. All expenses and damages collected by the Building Official under the provisions of this Chapter shall be deposited to the General Fund."

Section 4. That Section 14.36.050 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.050. NOTICE TO PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANIES BY LICENSEE. Before moving any building the licensee shall notify all public service corporations, whose wires or other applicances may obstruct the moving of such building of the time when such building will be moved and request such corporation to arrange for the passage of such building and such licensee shall pay to said corporation the reasonable cost and expense of the work required to be done."

Section 5. That Section 14.36.070 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.070. EXCAVATION — INJURY TO PAVEMENT — PRIVATE PROPERTY. It shall be unlawful for any licensee to make any opening or excavations in any street pavement or to set any stakes therein, and it is hereby made the duty of every such licensee to carry on his said business in a careful and safe manner and with the least possible injury to public or private property, and for every such injury or damage, he shall be liable on his bond. The Director of Public Works' estimate of any damage done to City property, except to electric light or other wires, by any licensee shall be final and conclusive upon such licensee."

Section 6. That Section 14.36.080 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.080. REVOCATION OF LICENSE. The housemovers license herein provided for may be revoked at any time by the Building Official if the licensee shall conduct his business in a reckless or careless manner, or shall fail or refuse to make prompt payment of any sums due the City from him under any of the provisions of this Chapter."

Section 7. That Section 14.36.090 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"14.36.090. COMPLIANCE WITH BUILDING CODE. No building or structure intended to be used for dwelling purposes shall be moved within the corporate limits of the City or within three (3) miles thereof unless such building or structure is structurally sound and complies with the minimum light, ventilation, sanitation and room dimension requirements of the City of Lincoln Building Code.

Before a Housemoving Permit may be issued, the Building Official shall make an inspection of such building or structure to determine whether or not the above requirements can be met. If such building or structure does not meet the requirements, the owner thereof shall furnish the Building Official a detailed outline of changes required together with a cost estimate of same. Upon approval of such outline and acceptance of such cost estimate the owner of the building or structure shall furnish to the Building Official a bond, acceptable to and approved by the City Attorney, in the amount of such estimate, conditioned upon the owner bringing such building or structure into compliance with the provision of this Chapter."

Section 8. That Sections 14.36.020, 14.36.030, 14.36.040, 14.36.050, 14.36.070, 14.36.080 and 14.36.090 of the Lincoln Municipal Code and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and they hereby are repealed.

Continuation Of School Lunch Asked When U.S. Cuts Off Dixie School Aid

Washington (AP) — The chairman of the special Senate committee on hunger said Thursday he will ask the Nixon administration to exempt school lunch programs when federal funds for Southern schools are cut off because of civil rights violations.

"It's a mistake to use a civil rights issue to aggravate a serious malnutrition problem," said Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

He said he will ask Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to see if a way can be found to continue lunch programs when other funds are stopped.

Free Stamps Planned

Meanwhile, the Agriculture Department discussed with Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina the details for distribution of free good stamps in Beaufort and Jasper Counties. Indications were the first free stamps would be made available next week.

McGovern hailed Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin's decision to supply the free stamps to the poorest people in an area cited by witnesses as having a high degree of hunger and disease.

"If we can get the concept established that the poorest people ought to get fed for free," he told reporters, "we're well on the way to eliminating malnutrition in the United States."

Million Have Worms

Testimony at the third and final day of the committee's hearings into hunger in South Carolina indicated that federal school lunch funds are inadequate, many poor people can't afford to buy food stamps and as many as one million persons in the Southeast are infested with worms.

McGovern and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., reacted quickly when Paul Matthias director of the South Carolina Council on Human Relations, testified that in 14 school districts, school lunch programs were stopped when federal school funds were cut off.

"The recalcitrance of school officials should not be the reason for stopping these lunch funds," Matthias said.

"I think that's an outrageous type of situation," Yarborough exclaimed, "that you starve children when schools don't meet the legal requirements."

Exception Needed

"I agree with Sen. Yarborough," McGovern said after the hearing. "While the intent of the civil rights act is good, we ought to make a special exception in the case of food. It's a situation that can't be allowed to continue."

Matthias testified also that when federal food funds were expanded last year, local authorities discriminated against Negro schools.

In Union County, he said, all schools got additional funds except for one all-Negro high school, where only 300 of 1,000 students were getting lunches and only 10 were getting them free.

Because School Black?

Yarborough asked if this was because the school was all black.

"I can't draw any other conclusion," Matthias said.

Yarborough commented: "That's some of the worst discrimination I ever heard of."

Matthias said, "Financial malnutrition is causing the school-lunch program to reach only a portion of the poor. There are still over 65,000 South Carolina children from the neediest of families who are not benefiting from what the law says they are entitled to."

NU To Receive $11,900 From 3M

The University of Nebraska will receive $11,900 as part of 3M Company's annual aid-to-education program.

Included in the total are three grants-in-aid — $3,500 each for chemistry and chemical engineering and $2,500 for electrical engineering — and two $1,200 scholarships for engineering and chemical engineering.

The scholarship funds may be used for one or more students, as the university decides.

Job Unit To Meet

The Nebraska Equal Employment Opportunity Commission will hold its February meeting Saturday at 2 p.m. at Dreisbach's Restaurant in Grand Island, executive director Reid Devoe reported Thursday.

Hundreds Of NU Students Join In Huge Snowball Fight

Hundreds of University of Nebraska students joined in a massive snowball fight on the NU campus Thursday night, while police attempted to move traffic through the area.

The battle started on a campus parking lot, but students soon moved to the area of 16th and Vine, bottling up traffic.

Acting Chancellor Merk Hobson was called after police efforts to break up the crowd failed. A police spokesman quoted Hobson as saying, "Let them have their fun."

Lincoln police then dispatched five units to the area to direct traffic through the battle scene.

Several motorists complained to police that their car windshields were broken by snowballs and several students reportedly suffered minor injuries when they were struck by snowballs with rocks in them.

The fight began after various NU fraternities and dormitories issued challenges to each other through a local radio station.

The announcer finally suggested that the student groups "have a free-for-all."

"Apparently, they took him at his word," said a student advisor at the scene of the fight.

Miss Sturmer's Rites Are Held; Retired Professor

Beatrice — Graveside services were held here Wednesday for Anna Marie Sturmer, 92, an emeritus professor of English at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan.

A member of the Kansas State faculty from 1920 to 1950, Miss Sturmer was found dead in her apartment at Manhattan Monday.

Widely known for her interest in Shakespeare and Elizabethan literature, Miss Sturmer personally promoted an annual Shakespeare dinner that long was a tradition at Kansas State.

A native of Germany, Miss Sturmer later lived in Brooklyn, N.Y., and for more than 10 years taught religious education there. She attended the University of Nebraska, receiving her A.B. in 1917 and her M.A. in 1920.

Surviving are sisters, Mary of Beatrice, Mrs. M. L. Robb of Omaha and Mrs. Hermine Mudrow of Newport, Ore.

Cosmetology Institute Second Session Set

The second-session of an annual Institute for Cosmetology Instructors will be held Feb. 24-25 at the Nebraska Center in Lincoln.

This is a repeat of a conference held Feb. 17-18 and is for cosmetology school owners, directors and instructors from Nebraska and South Dakota.

Small Crowd At Anti-Fluoridation Group's Meeting

A small crowd Thursday night listened to Dr. Robert C. Olney, president of the Health Protective Association, speak against city water fluoridation.

Dr. Olney requested people present to circulate petitions around their neighborhood to call for a vote against the proposed policies.

Several examples of anti-fluoridation testing were presented at the meeting by Dr. Olney.

Lincolnite's Death Apparent Suicide

The death of a 79-year-old Lincoln man has been ruled a suicide by a Lancaster County coroner.

Acting Coroner Louis Harroun, a deputy county sheriff, said the victim, John Wacker, was found dead in his home at 426 B Thursday.

Harroun said Wacker apparently hanged himself.

Wacker was a retired Burlington railroad employe and a resident of Lincoln for 56 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Katherine; three sons, and four daughters.

Some 30 Schools To Participate In NU Debate Meet

Some 30 colleges and universities are participating in the annual Intercollegiate Debate Conference at the University of Nebraska this weekend.

The conference program includes junior and senior division debate and one division in original oratory, extemporaneous speaking and interpretative reading, according to Dr. Donald O. Olson, University debate director.

The events are being held at the Temple Building, 12th and R St., and a sweepstakes award will be given to the school that does the best overall job in all areas of competition. The final round in debate competition will be held Saturday afternoon.

Stock Market Drops Sharply

New York (AP) — The stock market declined sharply again Thursday — its fourth straight loss for the week.

Continued selling pressure sent the Dow Jones industrial average to its lowest point since last September.

The average closed at 916.65, down 8.45 for the day. Cumulative loss for the week was 35.30 points. Dow rails dropped 2.0, utilities eased .8, and stocks fell 2.71.

Volume, however, was light. Sales Thursday were 10.99 million shares, compared with 10.39 million traded the day before, the slowest day in seven weeks.

Declining issues outsold advances 1,046 to 312 among the 210 unchanged issues. New 1968-69 lows were touched by 62 issues, while 3 hit new highs.

The sharp downturn this week followed more than a month of cautious advance. This advance came after a sharp drop in early January, when the Dow industrial average plunged more than 30 points.

Analysts attributed the weakening of the market to continuing uneasiness about further monetary restraints, and speculation about continuation of the 10 per cent surtax beyond its June 30 expiration date. They also cited congressional inquiries into the activities of conglomerates as a disturbing influence.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed off 2.4 at 345.8. Industrials were off 3.9, rails eased 1.1, and utilities were off 1.2.

Most losses were small and broadly spread as investors exhibited caution in the last session before the three-day break for Washington's birthday.

Steels were off fractionally. Auto issues were mixed, with Ford the only gainer, up ¼.

Utilities were off a fraction with American Telephone and Telegraph down ½ in active trading. Aircraft issues were down generally. Generally Dynamics lost 1⅛, but Grumman gained ⅞ in active trading.

Twentieth Century Fox topped the most-active list, off ¾ at 40¾ on sales of 251,000 shares. Activity in the issue follows merger speculation.

Hog Prices Are Mixed At Omaha

Omaha (AP) —Butcher hog prices were mixed here Thursday. Prices on 190-230 lb. weights were steady to mostly 25 lower while heavier porkers along with sows were termed fully steady in active trading.

Receipts were moderate, an estimated 7,000 compared to just over 8,000 the same day last week.

Butchers bulked at $21.00 for well sorted lots, sows were stopped at $18.75.

A small supply of fed steers and heifers met with good active demand and sold at generally steady prices.

Wooled slaughter lambs were steady to 25 higher, other slaughter classes were absent.

Wheat Rye Futures Dip

Chicago (AP) — Wheat and rye futures declined around 3 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade last week, influenced mainly by a lack of export trade and the continuing strike of longshoremen at major Atlantic Coast ports.

Other grain futures also trended lower, for the most part, but soybeans closed on an irregular tone Thursday, when the week's trade closed because of Washington's birthday on Friday. Soybean oil closed on a strong tone, but meal was weak.

When trade closed on Thursday, wheat was 2⅛ to 2⅞ cents a bushel lower, March 1.31; corn was unchanged to ⅜ lower, March 1.15⅝; oats were ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, March 72 cents; rye was 1⅜ to 3 cents lower, March 1.19; and soybeans were ½ lower to ⅛ higher, March 2.63⅜.

Ohio Students Block Marine Recruiting

By The Associated Press

Several hundred chanting student demonstrators blocked the return of military recruiters to Ohio's Oberlin College Thursday, then marched on the administration building carrying a Viet Cong flag.

College president Robert C. Carr confronted student spokesmen inside the building, then warned that anyone who didn't leave within 10 minutes would be expelled.

The protests started with opposition to Marine Corps representatives who were prevented from entering the student placement center and had to use a substitute office. Finally, they were asked by university officials to leave the campus.

Marines Escorted

About 300 demonstrators escorted the Marines off the campus, then marched to the administration building to demand changes in school policy.

"I've been trying to talk to you for weeks and months," Carr responded.

The Marines were the first armed forces recruiters on campus since October, 1967, when they drew similar protests.

On other campuses around the country Thursday there were these developments:

Chicago — More than 100 Negro students and a few whites stormed into the office of Roosevelt University's president and shouted demands for a black studies program and for amnesty for five expelled students. Denied an immediate decision, the students retreated from the room, jerked out telephone lines, tore down fire hoses and sprayed water down stairwells.

Support Promised

Worcester, Mass. — About 20 members of the Black Student Union at Clark University took over part of an administration building for nine hours. They left after faculty and students promised financial support for a request for 14 extra scholarships for Negro students and after the university president promised amnesty to all demonstrators. There are 24 Negroes among the 1,349 undergraduate students at Clark.

Berkeley, Calif. — Demonstrators at the University of California tossed tear gas at police during a two-hour confrontation. Two buildings were closed because of fumes. The police fired tear gas at the demonstrators in grenades, sprayed it from back packs and hurled it in cannisters. The 2,000 striking students and demonstrators responded with rocks, bottles, cherry bombs and tear gas of their own. At least nine persons were arrested.

Madison, Wis. — Fire officials described as "definitely arson" Thursday a fire that damaged the Afro-American Center at the strike-torn University of Wisconsin. Capt. John Tappen, reporting on progress in the investigation of the Wednesday blaze, said three separate fires were started in the frame building. Demonstrations at the university were halted Tuesday pending faculty consideration of demands by Negro students.

Heavy Winds Hit Soviet Farm Belt

Moscow (AP) — Hurricane winds buffeted the Soviet Union's north Caucasian farm belt and Caspian and Black Seaports for several weeks, it was learned.

Soviet newspapers said winds up to 90 miles an hour hit the farm belt, but they did not give damage estimates.

Reliable sources said the Black Seaport of Poti and the Caspian port of Baku had to be closed to shipping at the height of the storms. There was no official confirmation of port damage.

The sources also reported the Black Sea port of Odessa was blocked by ice for the first time in many years.

If Puss'd Worn Right Boots . . .

Baltimore, Md. (AP) — Operations at the Cat's Paw shoe heel plant were brought to a sudden halt by an alley cat.

The feline's nine lives ended in a 13,000-volt flash when it fell from a ledge into the plant's circuit breakers, knocking out power for two work shifts.

Soviet Plans Visit

Moscow (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev will go to Kuala Lumpur this week for the first official Russian visit to Malaysia.

Reds To Maneuver In E. Germany

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday that Communist forces will hold maneuvers early next month in East Germany.

Soviet and East German convoys were reported moving toward Berlin, site of the election March 5 of a successor to West German President Heinrich Luebke.

The announcement via the Soviet news agency Tass did not mention Berlin, the scheduled election in the isolated Western sector or the specific date of the exercises.

It said the maneuvers would be in central and western East Germany, which would be in the area of Berlin and in the 110 miles separating it from West Germany.

It seemed likely that the operation would provide cover for various forms of harassment and pressure on West Berlin to drive home the Communist assertion that West Germany has no legal claim to the Western sector.

The war of nerves over the scheduled election persisted Thursday with reports from travelers entering Czechoslovakia and from West German police that East German and Soviet troops and tanks were on the move.

Tass said the maneuvers would be commanded by the Warsaw Pact chief, Marshal Ivan Yakubovsky.

Judge Orders List

Chicago (UPI) — Cook County Chancery Judge Nathan Cohen has ordered B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron to furnish a list of its shareholders to Northwest Industries, Inc., Chicago Railway holding company which proposes to make a tender offer for Goodrich shares.

6 Receive Organs Of 1 Man In Separate Transplants

New York (AP) — Four persons had new hope for life Thursday, and two others were to have a new chance for sight — with six organs taken from the body of a 57-year-old man who died of a brain tumor.

Surgeons said the operations marked the first time as many organs — heart, liver, both kidneys, both corneas — were removed from a single donor for transplantation into six separate recipients.

The operations also marked the first time a heart was removed in one hospital and transferred — via block-long tunnel — to another hospital for implantation.

The recipients were reported doing well after the series of operations late Wednesday and early Thursday.

The donor was identified only as a 57-year-old man who was admitted to Memorial Hospital for cancer and allied diseases with an inoperable brain tumor. He died Wednesday.

His heart went to a 36-year-old man and the liver to a 27-year-old woman whose own liver was destroyed by cancer. One kidney went to a 19-year-old boy and the other to a 38-year-old woman.

One cornea was scheduled for transplantation later Thursday to a 50-year-old man.

The other was to be transplanted to a man, 64.

FOR GREATEST ECONOMY — start your ad for 10 times, cancel when you obtain results. You pay only the rate earned at the time of cancellation.

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads from within the State of Nebraska which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled. Daily rate for ads from outside State of Nebraska is 49 cents per line.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 93% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

DEADLINES FOR FAMILY WANT ADS — Lincoln Journal (Evening)—Call before 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for publication the same day. Lincoln Star (Morning)—Call before 6 p.m. Monday through Friday for publication on following day. Call before 5 p.m. Saturdays for Monday morning publication. Sunday Journal and Star—Call anytime before 1 p.m. on Saturdays for publication Sunday.

ERRORS: Advertisers should check their ad on first insertion and report any errors at once. Dial 477-8902.

ADJUSTMENTS: The company is responsible for typographical errors or misclassification only to cancel the first day's charge on that portion of an ad that may be rendered valueless by that error. All ads will be classified properly.

BLIND BOX SERVICE: There is a 50c aditional charge for this confidential service. When using a Blind Box Number, add 4 additional words to your Want Ad copy, figure the charges from the above table and add 50c for Blind Box Service Charges.

OFFICE HOURS: Daily, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Homes having 3 bedrooms account for more than half of all recorded sales. Those with 4 bedrooms make up another 23%.

The U-shaped kitchen is regarded by some homemaking experts as the most functional layout.

A Board of Realtors in Seattle sponsored a drive to raise $120,000 to finance a high school fine arts program, staffed by a specialized faculty, to train students interested in professional music, theatre, opera and ballet.

Leaving garage doors open when you go to market advertises your absence and invites robberies.

"Real estate is more of a bargain for experienced buyers than growth stocks," acording to Eliot Janeway. The noted economist made this reply to an investor who had real estate holdings and contemplated purchasing growth stocks. If you decide to invest in realty, we'll be glad to help you select a suitable property.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Seventeen nations participate in the International Ice Patrol. Since its formation after the sinking of the Titanic in 1912, no lives have been lost through collision of ships with icebergs in the North Atlantic shipping lanes.

Trois Rivieres, Canada, markets almost as much newsprint as Sweden.

There were 1,041 countywide school systems in the nation in 1967.

The first air raid was carried out by pilotless balloons sent by the Austrians in 1849 to bomb Venice.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three L's X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a practial little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
